Summary

In this report we refresh the list of 100 privately-held AI & software firms that are coming up most in our industry checks, including one-page profiles on each. These 100 privates represent the next generation of AI & software firms for public tech investors to monitor, highlighting new growth vectors and potential disruption risk for incumbent public software firms. Reflecting the rapid pace of change in the sector, a full 40% of these profiles are new compared to the last version from November 2025.

Key Observations

We'd note: 1. The scale of many of these AI & software firms, and more importantly their growth rates (which in many cases have accelerated YTD), is a strong signal that incumbency matters less in periods of rapid change (now) than it does in periods of stability (pre-2023). Vendor choices are instead coming down to who has the best AI products or harnesses (a reflection of AI engineering talent as well as the advantage of building off a "clean slate"), the best pricing model and interoperability with other parts of the AI stack. In many cases, disruptors are being chosen over software incumbents. The revenue base of the AI-centric privates is likely now much larger than the AI revenue streams of the public players. 2. A quick glance at this Private 100 list reveals that a growing portion of the larger privates are operating at the AI infrastructure and coding layers, which, combined with the model providers, have captured a very large portion of the incremental enterprise spending growth. Outside of the AI coding market, fewer of these privates have scaled in the applications space, but this should change over time as adoption moves well beyond general chatbots and coding agents. 3. We expect even more consolidation, as we've already seen with Cursor, Moveworks, Weights & Biases, Fin, Hugging Face and other deals as publicly-traded incumbents acquire their way to larger AI scale.

Two Relevant UBS Events

For investors doing more work around the disruptive privates, we'd flag two upcoming annual events that may be of interest:

- Nov 30-Dec 3, 2026 – UBS Tech & AI Conference: Hosted annually at the Phoenician hotel in Scottsdale, AZ, the largest UBS conference of the year in the US brings together 350+ technology firms and 1,000+ tech investors for on-stage firesides as well as small group meetings for investors. The private firms presenting this year include OpenAI, Databricks, Perplexity, ElevenLabs, Glean, Higgsfield and 1Password among many others.
- Jan 13-14, 2027 – UBS Venture Capital Summit: Each year, UBS brings together 15+ of the largest venture capital (VC) firms and their senior partners or founders focused on enterprise tech for two days of firesides on emerging trends in technology and the portfolio companies that these VC firms are investing behind. The 2027 edition will again be hosted at the Rosewood Sand Hill hotel in Menlo Park, CA.

We expect even more consolidation, as we've already seen with Cursor, Moveworks, Weights & Biases, Fin, Hugging Face and other deals as publicly-traded incumbents acquire their way to larger AI scale.

The Scale of Privates

The first key observation is the sheer scale of the privately-held AI & Software firms. As we illustrate in Figure 1 below, the revenues of just these 100 privates – excluding the frontier labs - sum to ~$62 billion, with 21 of these 100 firms having estimated revenues that exceed $1 billion. Consider this – ~$62 billion of revenue is the equivalent of ~17 Snowflake's or Datadog's in the private markets. This is unprecedented, clearly a reflection of an extraordinary demand backdrop for especially AI-centric technology and services combined with ample funding available for privates over the last 5+ years that has reduced the motivation to go public.

UBS Private AI Conference Takes

In mid-July, UBS hosted our 5th annual Private AI & Software Conference in Menlo Park, CA, where we hosted 80+ top private companies (AlphaSense, Anduril, ClickHouse, Cohesity, Cognition, Crusoe, Cursor, ElevenLabs, Factory AI, Fireworks, Glean, Gong, Harvey, Hebbia, Higgsfield, Perplexity, Ramp, Runway and Sierra among many others) and 325+ investors.

Broad Themes – Token Optimization

The most dominant themes were: 1. Consistent with our customer checks, these AI-native firms cited a renewed effort by users to better manage AI compute/token costs. As one prominent coding agent provider said, "every single customer conversation is about this". The dominant lever was a shift to cheaper open source models, mostly Chinese but with several positive call-outs about Nvidia's Nemotron model. While the AI-natives argued that the growth of the frontier models should also remain very strong, it was clear from these AI-native conversations that one key token optimization impact was a down-tiering to cheaper models. 2. The growth rates of the AI-natives, just in the last 6+ months, have been extraordinary and a) signal that enterprises ARE indeed leaning into AI (raising AI crowding-out concerns) and b) are a positive read to tech suppliers (Datadog, AI infra firms) serving this hyper-growth customer segment.

Segment/Company-Specific Color

We'd note: 1. SaaS/apps: While few, if any, of the AI-natives cited examples of customers using their tech to displace incumbent SaaS/apps products (good news), there were few, if any, call-outs of SaaS incumbents having material success selling their AI suites. 2. Coding/SDLC: One AI coding firm cited plans to "shift-right" from coding and automate more of the software development process, including building an alternative to Git repos and potentially issue tracking systems like Atlassian Jira (but NOT displace JFrog). 3. Security: The demand environment was characterized as steadily improving with more direct focus at the CEO/Board level (but without a pronounced 2Q inflection), growing focus on data security, and an evolving competitive landscape between incumbents and AI security specialists. 4. Datadog: One of Datadog's rivals argued that it's proving to be very tough to displace Datadog (they are focused on Splunk/Elastic instead). 5. Neo-Clouds: We were impressed with the number of AI-natives running on multiple "neo-cloud" AI infrastructure providers. 6. AI data centers: One of the prominent AI data center builders delivered an "on time-on budget" summary of their major data centers builds, good news for Oracle. 7. Edge AI inference: One AI-native said that "in 12 months, frontier-class models will be able to run locally on your PC", interesting as we haven't heard this before. 8. Adobe: One AI-native argued that "models are subsuming the editing process", raising risks around Adobe's role in the AI creative process. 9. Legacy apps modernization: One of the coding-centric firms said that 50% of use cases are around legacy apps migrations and code refactoring, creating some risk for some on-prem tech suppliers (such as IBM).

Two Relevant UBS Events

For investors doing more work around the disruptive privates, we'd flag two upcoming annual events that could be of interest:

- Nov 30-Dec 3, 2026 – UBS Tech & AI Conference: Hosted annually at the Phoenician hotel in Scottsdale, AZ, the largest UBS conference of the year in the US brings together 350+ technology firms and 1,000+ tech investors for on-stage firesides as well as small group meetings for investors. The private firms presenting this year include OpenAI and Databricks among many others.
- Jan 13-14, 2027 – UBS Venture Capital Summit: Each year, UBS brings together 15+ of the largest venture capital (VC) firms and their senior partners or founders focused on enterprise tech for two days of firesides on emerging trends in technology and the portfolio companies that these VC firms are investing behind. The 2027 edition will again be hosted at the Rosewood Sand Hill hotel in Menlo Park, CA.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: ABNORMAL AI

COMPANY NAME	Abnormal AI
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Cybersecurity / Email Security, Identity Security, AI Security & Behavioral AI
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Abnormal AI participates across multiple cybersecurity categories including email security, identity security, AI security, and insider threat protection. Gartner forecasts spending across the company's addressable markets in Secure Email Gateway (SEG), Access Management, and User Authentication to reach ~$25B by 2030. This likely understates Abnormal's long-term opportunity, as the company has increasingly expanded into AI Security and Insider Threat Protection through products such as AI Governance, AI Application Discovery, Adaptive Identity Reset, and Infiltration Prevention which are not fully captured by the Gartner segments included above.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Abnormal is currently headquartered in Las Vegas, NV with a global presence.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Check Point (CHKP), Microsoft (MSFT), Palo Alto Networks (PANW), CrowdStrike (CRWD) PRIVATE: Proofpoint, Sublime Security, Mimecast
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Abnormal highlights customer success stories with a variety of customers operating across different sectors and industries including Domino's, Valvoline, Unilever, Marriott, Hasbro, Lowe's, Liberty Mutual, Nestle, Chipotle, PepsiCo, and more.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Abnormal AI is a behavioral AI security platform focused on Email Security, Identity Security, AI Security, and Insider Threat Protection. The company uses its proprietary Attune 1.0 behavioral AI platform to establish baselines across users, identities, applications, and business processes, enabling detection of sophisticated attacks that evade signature- and rule-based defenses. Originally built around API-native email security, Abnormal has expanded into identity protection, AI governance, AI application discovery, and insider threat prevention, positioning the platform beyond traditional email security.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2018
WEBSITE	abnormal.ai
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Evan Reiser serves as the CEO of Abnormal AI, having co-founded the company after leading product and ML teams at Twitter's advertising business. Lisa Banks currently serves as the CFO, bringing her experience from serving as CFO at SpotOn and as an SVP at ServiceNow. Abhi Bagri is the CTO at Abnormal, where he brings 10+ years of experience building AI-driven products, most recently as an architect at Twitter.
SIZE OF COMPANY	As of Series D financing, Abnormal exceeded $200M ARR. Since then, as of July 2026 they serve more than 5,000 customers (compared to 3,000 last year), including 30% of the Fortune 500 (compared to 20% last year).
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Abnormal reported ARR growth exceeding 100% through its August 2024 Series D financing and has continued expanding its customer base and platform capabilities. Recent growth initiatives include expansion into Identity Security, AI Security, and Insider Threat Protection, alongside new products such as Adaptive Identity Reset, AI Governance, and Infiltration Prevention. The company has also expanded internationally and into the public sector following FedRAMP Moderate Authorization.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Abnormal has not historically been active in M&A.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Abnormal's Series D was led by Wellington management with participation from Greylock Partners, Menlo Ventures, Insight Partners, and CrowdStrike Falcon Fund.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In its Series D in August 2024, Abnormal raised $250M at a $5.1B valuation.
VALUATION APPROACHES / METHODOLOGIES USED IN THE SECTOR	Target EV/S (or for scaled, profitable firms, EV/FCF) multiples, based on a comparable peer group average/median.
SECONDARY PRICING DATA	N/A

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: ABRIDGE

COMPANY NAME	Abridge
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	AI Apps / Healthcare AI, Ambient Clinical Intelligence, Clinical Documentation & Healthcare Workflow Automation
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Gartner forecasts global AI software spending in healthcare and life sciences will increase from $11.6B in 2024 to $18.9B by 2027.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Abridge is headquartered in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and maintains offices in San Francisco and New York City.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Microsoft Dragon Copilot (MSFT), Oracle Health Clinical AI Agent (ORCL), Amazon Connect Health (AMZN) PRIVATE: Ambience Healthcare, Nabla, Suki, DeepScribe, Heidi Health, and Corti
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Epic, Oracle Health, and Athenahealth are important EHR integration partners, while NVIDIA is co-developing a foundation model designed specifically for clinical conversations. Abridge customers include Mayo Clinic, Johns Hopkins Medicine, Duke Health, Yale New Haven Health, Emory Healthcare, Northwestern Medicine, UChicago Medicine, UNC Health, Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, UT Health and Seattle Children's.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Abridge provides an AI-native clinical intelligence platform that converts patient-clinician conversations into structured notes, flowsheets, patient summaries, orders and coding inputs while embedding the outputs into existing EHR workflows. The company differentiates through its healthcare-specific contextual reasoning, evidence-linked documentation, deep Epic integration and large base of clinical-conversation data. Its partnership with NVIDIA to develop a clinical-conversation foundation model could deepen its domain-specific technology advantage, although competition is increasing from Microsoft, Oracle, EHR vendors and well-funded ambient-AI startups.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2018
WEBSITE	abridge.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Abridge was founded by Dr. Shivdev Rao (CEO), Sandeep Konam and Florian Metze.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Abridge has ~500 employees according to PitchBook. As of June 2026, the company was live across more than 300 health systems, on track to support more than 100M clinical conversations annually and reached health systems serving more than 250M patients. In early 2025 the company reached $117M in contracted ARR.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Abridge expanded from ~100 health-system customers in early 2025 to more than 150 by June 2025 and more than 300 by June 2026. Annual clinical-conversation volume increased from an expected 50M in 2025 to more than 100M by June 2026, while the company broadened its platform from ambulatory documentation into inpatient care, nursing, coding, billing, prior authorization, payer adjudication, clinical decision support, and life-sciences research.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	No major M&A activity.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include a16z, Khosla Ventures, IVP, Elad Gil, Bessemer Venture Partners, Lightspeed Venture Partners, NVentures, CVS Health Ventures, Kaiser Permanente Ventures, UPMC, and Eli Lilly. Abridge is Series E-stage and has raised approximately $1.1B, including its reported April 2026 Series E extension and an undisclosed June 2026 strategic investment from Eli Lilly.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	Abridge reportedly raised $316M in an extension to its Series E in April 2026 at a $5.3B valuation. The extension followed its $300M June 2025 Series E, led by a16z with participation from Khosla Ventures, which initially established the $5.3B valuation. Abridge subsequently received an undisclosed strategic investment from Eli Lilly in June 2026, but no updated valuation was reported.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: ALATION

COMPANY NAME	Alation
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Data Software / Data Intelligence, Metadata Management, Data Catalog, Data Governance, Data Quality & AI Governance Software
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Alation addresses the metadata management, data catalog, data governance, data quality, and broader data management software markets. Gartner forecasts worldwide end-user spending on data management software excluding database management systems to reach $21.6B by 2029, representing a five-year CAGR of 9.3%, driven by demand for integration, governance and metadata-management tools.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Alation is headquartered in Redwood City, California and maintains operations across North America, Europe, and Asia-Pacific.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Salesforce (CRM), Snowflake (SNOW), Microsoft (MSFT), Amazon (AMZN), Alphabet (GOOG), Reltio (SAP), data.world (NOW) PRIVATE: Collibra, Databricks, Atlan, Qlik, Matillion, Denodo, and Ataccama
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Microsoft Azure, Amazon Web Services, and Google Cloud Platform are important infrastructure and integration partners, while Alation connects with more than 120 enterprise data sources and platforms including Snowflake and Databricks. Alation serves more than 600 enterprise customers as of February 2026, including Nasdaq, Hertz, Samsung, Daimler Truck North America, Commonwealth Bank of Australia, Marks & Spencer and RaceTrac, as well as approximately 40% of the Fortune 100.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Alation built its market position around collaborative data cataloging, metadata search, data discovery, lineage, and governance, supported by a broad connector ecosystem and machine-learning-based Behavioral Analysis Engine. The company is expanding into an agentic knowledge layer that automates metadata curation, data-quality enforcement, AI governance, and enterprise workflows, strengthened by its acquisition of Numbers Station. Alation's primary differentiation is combining business context, governed metadata and enterprise knowledge to improve the accuracy and control of AI agents.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2012
WEBSITE	alation.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Alation was founded by Satyen Sangani, Aaron Kalb, Feng Niu, and Venky Ganti. Satyen Sangani serves as CEO, Javier Teran as CFO, and Rick Baker as COO.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Alation serves more than 600 enterprise customers, including approximately 40% of the Fortune 100. The company last publicly disclosed ARR exceeding $100M in 2022. PitchBook estimates Alation employs ~800 people globally.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Product growth has centered on expanding beyond data cataloging into automated governance, data quality, AI compliance and agentic workflows, including the March 2026 general availability of Curation Automation, the May 2026 launch of Alation AI Governance, the July 2026 launch of AIOS, its intelligence OS for enterprise AI and the October launch of lineage APIs available to cloud customers.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In May 2025, Alation acquired Numbers Station AI, a Stanford-affiliated startup that developed AI agents for structured-data workflows.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include Thoma Bravo, Sanabil Investments, Costanoa Ventures, Databricks Ventures, Dell Technologies Capital, Salesforce Ventures, Sapphire Ventures, ICONIQ Capital, Andreessen Horowitz, and General Catalyst. Alation is Series E-stage and has raised $340M in disclosed venture funding.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In November 2022, Alation raised $123M in a Series E at a $1.7B valuation led by Thoma Bravo, Sanabil Investments, and Costanoa Ventures.
VALUATION APPROACHES / METHODOLOGIES USED IN THE SECTOR	Target EV/S (or for scaled, profitable firms, EV/FCF) multiples, based on a comparable peer group average/median.

GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Anduril is headquartered in Orange County, CA with offices in Atlanta, GA; Seattle, WA; Boston, MA; Washington DC; London, UK & Sydney, Aus.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Boeing (BA), L3Harris (LHX), Lockheed Martin (LMT), Northrop Grumman (NOC), RTX (RTX), General Dynamics (GD) PRIVATE: Shield AI, Rebellion Defense, Chaos Industries, Saronic, Epirus Notable competitors are those developing defense technology and selling advanced, AI-powered hardware and software products for the DoD.
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Ark.ai lists Emcore Corporation, Kraken Robotics, Orbital Corp, TLG Aerospace and Phoenix Flight Test as tier 1 suppliers (here). Key customers are government agencies and the DoD.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Anduril Industries is a defense technology company focused on AI-enabled software, autonomous systems, and defense manufacturing. Its core platform, Lattice, provides AI-driven command, control, and data fusion capabilities that integrate sensors, weapons, vehicles, and operators across domains. The company develops products spanning unmanned aerial systems, counter-UAS and air defense, autonomous underwater vehicles, loitering munitions, rocket motors, and next-generation military command-and-control infrastructure. Anduril's strategy emphasizes rapid product development, vertical integration, and the application of commercial technology practices to defense systems.

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Palmer Luckey, Founder: Mr. Luckey founded Anduril and before that Oculus VR, which was acquired by Facebook in 2014 for $2.3b. He remains closely involved with Anduril. Brian Schimpf, Co-Founder and CEO: Prior to Anduril, Mr. Schimpf was director of engineering at Palantir Technologies and built their Foundry product. He also founded and led Cornell University's autonomous vehicle research program.
SIZE OF COMPANY	According to Factset, the company had more than 4,000 employees and reported revenue of approximately $2.1bn in 2025.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Anduril Industries has experienced rapid growth since its founding in 2017. Because the company is privately held, its financial results are based largely on third-party reporting and estimates. Revenue is estimated to have increased from approximately $420mn in 2023 to approximately $2.1bn to $2.2bn in 2025. According to media reports, the company expects revenue to nearly double to approximately $4.3bn in 2026, although it is projected to generate an operating loss of over $1bn and does not expect to reach profitability until around 2030. Growth has been supported by major U.S. defense awards, including assuming the lead role in the Army's Integrated Visual Augmentation System program, which has a potential contract ceiling of up to $22bn, and securing a 10-year, $642.2mn-ceiling counter-UAS IDIQ for systems deployed at U.S. Marine Corps installations. In March 2026, the Army also awarded the company a 10-year enterprise agreement with a ceiling of up to $20bn. In October 2026, the U.S. Navy awarded Anduril a $2.9bn contract to support submarine construction on the back of the company's planned $3.7bn manufacturing complex investment in Maryland. Contract ceilings represent maximum potential values and should not be interpreted as guaranteed revenue or funded backlog. The company is also expanding production capacity, including ramping manufacturing of autonomous undersea systems through 2027.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Anduril Industries has made multiple acquisitions, they acquired ExoAnalytic Solutions, in March 2026 (here). American Infrared Solutions, in October 2025 (here). Klas, a computing and tactical communications company, in July 2025 (here). PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: ARMADIN

COMPANY NAME	Armadin
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Cybersecurity / Autonomous Red Teaming, Continuous Security Validation & Exposure Management
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Armadin operates across several cybersecurity categories, including penetration testing, red teaming, exposure management, attack surface management, and security validation. While the company has not publicly disclosed a TAM estimate, cybersecurity spending is increasingly shifting from periodic, human-led assessments toward continuous security validation and automated offensive security.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Armadin is headquartered in Palo Alto, California.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Tenable (TENB), Rapid7 (RPD), Qualys (QLYS) PRIVATE: Horizon3.ai, XBOW, SafeBreach, Picus Security, Synack
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Armadin has not publicly disclosed customer references. Armadin also collaborates with leading cybersecurity vendors including Palo Alto Networks and CrowdStrike through Project Quiltworks, an initiative focused on improving interoperability and coordinated defense across modern enterprise security environments.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Armadin is an AI-native cybersecurity platform focused on autonomous red teaming and continuous security validation. The company leverages specialized AI agents that emulate sophisticated threat actors to identify, validate, and prioritize exploitable attack paths rather than simply generate vulnerability findings. Armadin differentiates itself through its ability to continuously test enterprise defenses at machine speed, helping organizations move beyond periodic penetration testing and human-led red team exercises toward continuous offensive security validation (discovered 43 critical zero-day RCE vulns in 8 months). Built by former Mandiant, Google Cloud Security, and offensive security leaders, the platform is designed to help enterprises identify real-world attack paths, validate security controls, and improve cyber resilience against increasingly automated and AI-powered threats.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: BASETEN

COMPANY NAME	Baseten
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Technology / AI Infrastructure / Post-Training and Inference Platform
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Baseten addresses the AI model infrastructure, inference, training and customization market. Gartner forecasts worldwide spending on generative AI models will reach $76B by 2029, representing a 66.8% CAGR. Broader AI spending, including infrastructure, software, services, and devices, is projected to reach $4.7T by 2029, although Baseten addresses only the model training, customization and production-inference portions of this market.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in San Francisco, California
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Microsoft (MSFT), Amazon (AMZN), Alphabet (GOOG), Oracle (ORCL), CoreWeave (CRWV), Nebius (NBIS) and Cloudflare (NET). PRIVATE: Together AI, Fireworks and Modal
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Nvidia is a key hardware supplier and investor and OpenAI is an important channel partner. Key customers include Cursor, Notion, Lovable, Harvey, HubSpot, OpenEvidence, Abridge, Decagon and Parallel.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Baseten provides the production infrastructure that sits between trained AI models and the applications using them. Its platform handles model packaging, GPU provisioning, autoscaling, routing, inference optimization, observability, versioning, reliability, and security. Customers can deploy custom models through Baseten's open-source Truss framework or access optimized open models through token-priced APIs. The company differentiates itself through low-latency inference, multi-cloud capacity management, support for custom and open models, enterprise compliance and hands-on model performance engineering.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2019
WEBSITE	baseten.co
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Baseten was founded by Tuhin Srivastava (CEO), Philip Howes, Amir Haghighat (CTO), and Pankaj Gupta.
SIZE OF COMPANY	In May 2026, The Information reported that Baseten's ARR tripled to ~$600 million in CQ1, up from ~$200 million at the start of the quarter. Baseten employs ~300 people, with the company planning to triple headcount in 2026.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Baseten announced in June 2026 that over the last year revenue grew 20x y/y and inference volume increased 40x over that same period. The Information reported that its annualized revenue run rate increased to $600 million in CQ1 from ~$200 million at the start of the quarter. The platform now handles more than 1B daily inference calls across 90+ clusters and 20+ clouds.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Baseten acquired Parsed in December 2025, strengthening their RL/post-training workflows. In September 2026, Baseten acquired Blaxel, an agent sandbox and infrastructure company.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Baseten is Series F stage. PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: BENCHLING

COMPANY NAME	Benchling
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Life-Sciences Software / Biotech R&D Platform
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	While Benchling has not disclosed a company-specific TAM, its opportunity spans software that digitizes life-sciences R&D workflows across biopharma and other biotech industries. As a broad market benchmark, not a direct TAM, Gartner forecasts worldwide healthcare and life-sciences IT spending will reach $446B by 2029, with software spending growing at a 10.2% CAGR through 2029. Continued digitization of R&D workflows and demand for scientific data management are key market tailwinds.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in San Francisco, with additional offices in Boston, Zurich, and Belfast.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Thermo Fisher Scientific (TMO), Siemens (SIEGY) PRIVATE: Dotmatics, LabWare, LabVantage, Sapio Sciences, LabGuru, STARLIMS
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Benchling has over half the top 50 global biopharma companies as customers, including Sanofi, AstraZeneca, Moderna, and Gilead Sciences.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Benchling is a cloud-native, life-sciences R&D platform that unifies scientific data, experiment documentation, sample and inventory management, workflows, automation, and AI within a single system. Unlike point-solution ELN or LIMS vendors, Benchling positions itself as an integrated system spanning everyday bench experiments through broader R&D program management. Its life-sciences-specific data model, collaborative architecture, and adoption across more than 1,300 biotech and biopharma organizations differentiate it from traditional laboratory informatics vendors, though it competes with a broad set of ELN, LIMS, and scientific data-management providers.

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Sajith Wickramasekara (CEO and Co-founder), Ashu Singhal (Co-founder and President), Ron Gill (CFO). Wickramasekara studied computer science at MIT; Singhal previously cofounded a social media analytics company acquired by Twitter; Gill previously served as CFO of NetSuite.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Benchling serves 200,000+ scientists across 1,300+ biotech organizations and 7,500 academic labs in more than 32 countries. The company crossed $200M in annualized revenue in May 2024 and had approximately 600 employees as of September 2025. Its customers span biopharma, agriculture, food, materials, chemicals, and consumer products. More than half of the top 50 global biopharma companies use the platform.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Benchling crossed $200M in annualized revenue in May 2024, its latest disclosed financial milestone. In January 2021, Benchling said it had doubled ARR for four consecutive years, added 150 customers in 2020, and maintained 99% retention. More recently, Benchling expanded its product suite with the October 2025 launch of Benchling AI, supported by the August 2025 addition of AI talent from ReSync Bio and Sphinx Bio.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In August 2025, Benchling acquired the teams at ReSync Bio and Sphinx Bio, two AI startups focused on scientific data analysis and workflows, to add AI talent and accelerate its product roadmap. Financial terms were not disclosed.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Late-stage private company; latest disclosed funding stage was Series F. Investors include Franklin Templeton, Altimeter Capital, Sequoia Capital, Benchmark, Menlo Ventures, Thrive Capital, Tiger Global, ICONIQ, Lux Capital, Spark Capital, and Lead Edge Capital.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	Benchling's latest disclosed primary funding was a $100M Series F in November 2021, co-led by Franklin Templeton and Altimeter Capital, at a $6.1B valuation. The round followed a $200M Series E in April 2021 at a $4B valuation.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: BIGPANDA

COMPANY NAME	BigPanda
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	AIOps / Agentic IT Operations and Incident Intelligence
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	IDC estimates the worldwide IT operations management software market will grow from $26.0B in 2025 to $51.6B in 2030, a 14.7% CAGR. BigPanda separately notes on its website that enterprises spend more than $250B annually on manual ITOps workflows, representing a broader automation opportunity rather than direct software TAM.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in Redwood City, California, with offices in the Philadelphia area and Tel Aviv, plus an established EMEA presence in London.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: ServiceNow (NOW), PagerDuty (PD), Cisco/Splunk (CSCO), IBM (IBM), Dynatrace (DT), and Datadog (DDOG) PRIVATE: ScienceLogic, BMC Helix, Digitate, and Better Stack
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Notable customers include the New York Stock Exchange, IHG Hotels & Resorts, Autodesk, and Lucid Motors. BigPanda does not disclose material suppliers, but its ecosystem includes integrations with major observability and ITSM platforms, including an elite Build Partner relationship with ServiceNow.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	BigPanda provides a vendor-agnostic AIOps and agentic ITOps platform for large, complex enterprises. It unifies event, alert, change, topology, and service-management data to detect, triage, respond to, and prevent incidents. Its primary differentiation is an open intelligence and automation layer that integrates with existing observability and ITSM tools rather than requiring customers to replace them. BigPanda competes most directly with ServiceNow ITOM, PagerDuty, and Cisco's Splunk ITSI, as well as other event-intelligence and AIOps platforms.

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Assaf Resnick (Co-founder and CEO); Elik Eizenberg (Co-founder); Ed Tang (CFO and COO); Tom Melzl (CRO); Scott Brown (Chief Customer Officer); and Caitlin Davis (Chief People Officer).
SIZE OF COMPANY	BigPanda has 300+ employees (based on LinkedIn and PitchBook estimates), but does not disclose current revenue or ARR. In a July 2025 report analyzing 130 organizations using its platform in 2024, BigPanda stated that 42% of those organizations were on the 2024 Fortune 1000 list, 29% were on the 2024 Fortune 500 list, and 12% were on the 2024 Global Fortune 500 list.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	BigPanda has not disclosed recent revenue growth. In 2021, the company reported a 155% year-over-year increase in net new ARR, 122% net dollar retention, and a fivefold increase in $1M+ customer contracts. More recently, the company expanded its product suite with the May 2025 launch of its agentic ITOps platform, including AI Detection and Response and AI Incident Assistant, and the November 2025 acquisition of Velocity to accelerate AI-driven incident automation.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In November 2025, BigPanda acquired Velocity, an AI-powered SRE company, to add technology and talent and accelerate AI-driven incident detection, response, and automation. Financial terms were not disclosed.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Late-stage private company; latest disclosed funding stage was Series E. Investors include Mayfield, Sequoia Capital, Insight Partners, Advent International, Battery Ventures, UBS Next, and Wells Fargo Strategic Capital.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	BigPanda's latest disclosed financing was an August 2022 extension of its Series E from UBS Next and Wells Fargo Strategic Capital. The extension followed a $190M Series E in January 2022, led by Advent International and Insight Partners, at a $1.2B valuation. No subsequent primary funding round has been publicly disclosed.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: CANVA

COMPANY NAME	Canva
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Creative and Visual Communications Software / AI-Powered Design and Productivity Platform
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	In April 2025, Canva estimated its TAM at more than $180B, split roughly evenly between B2C (approximately 4B adult internet users) and B2B (approximately 1.8B knowledge workers). This excludes students, who can currently use Canva's premium education offering for free.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in Sydney, Canva serves users in 190 countries and has hubs in Melbourne, Austin, San Francisco, London, Manila, and Vienna.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Adobe (ADBE), Microsoft (MSFT), Alphabet/Google (GOOGL), and Figma (FIG) PRIVATE: Miro and Lucid Software
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Canva is used by >95% of the Fortune 500. Notable enterprise customers include FedEx, Salesforce, Expedia, Reddit, Docusign, and Zoom.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	In contrast to Adobe's historical focus on professional designers, Canva established leadership among non-professional "citizen designers" through an intuitive, template-led platform, freemium distribution, and strong education adoption. Through its March 2024 acquisition of Affinity, Canva Enterprise, AI tools, and the hiring of former HubSpot Chief Customer Officer Rob Giglio to lead sales and GTM, Canva is also moving into professional and enterprise workflows. B2B ARR exceeded $500M as of April 2026, up from $394M a year earlier, while enterprise sales were growing 2.2x annually. More than 100M students use Canva, representing over $2B of donated premium access. Canva increasingly overlaps with Adobe but remains differentiated by ease of use, collaboration, and broad distribution.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2012
WEBSITE	canva.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Melanie Perkins (Co-founder and CEO) and Cliff Obrecht (Co-founder and COO) previously founded school-yearbook platform Fusion Books at university; Cameron Adams (Co-founder and CPO) was a lead designer at Google; and Rob Giglio (Chief Customer Officer), formerly HubSpot's CCO, leads sales and GTM.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Canva ended 2025 with approximately $4B in ARR, 265M+ monthly active users, 31M+ paid users, and roughly 5,000 employees (up from 240M MAUs, 27M paid users, and ~5,000 employees in early 2025). B2B ARR reached $500M, doubling year over year, and Canva is used by over 95% of the Fortune 500. Its scale increasingly overlaps with Adobe's lighter-weight creative funnel and the productivity suites of Microsoft and Google, while the Affinity acquisition expands Canva toward professional and enterprise design workflows.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Canva's annualized revenue increased from $3.1B in April 2025 to $3.3b in August 2025 and approximately $4B by year-end, with growth ~40%, but has since moderated. The Australian Financial Review, citing Canva's Q2 2026 shareholder update, reported 25% Y/Y revenue growth and a lowered full-year growth outlook from 30% to approximately 20%, citing a deliberate slowdown in AI rollouts while improving unit economics.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Canva acquired Affinity in March 2024 for professional design and Leonardo.AI in July 2024 for generative image and video capabilities. It added ad-intelligence platform MagicBrief in 2025, followed in 2026 by MangoAI, motion-design platform Cavalry, agentic-AI platform Simtheory, and marketing-automation company Ortto. Financial terms were generally undisclosed.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Late-stage private company. Investors include Sequoia Capital, Accel, Goldman Sachs, Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan, T. Rowe Price, Blackbird Ventures, Founders Fund, Coatue, Fidelity Management & Research, and J.P. Morgan Asset Management.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	Canva's latest disclosed transaction valuation was $42B in an August 2025 employee share sale led by existing investor Fidelity Management & Research, with J.P. Morgan Asset Management joining as a new investor. No subsequent primary funding round has been publicly disclosed.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: CATO NETWORKS

COMPANY NAME	Cato Networks
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Cybersecurity / Secure Access Service Edge (SASE), Security Service Edge (SSE), Zero Trust Network Access (ZTNA)
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Cato operates across several cybersecurity categories including Secure Web Gateway (SWG), Zero Trust Network Access (ZTNA), Cloud Access Security Broker (CASB), and Firewall-as-a-Service (FWaaS). Based on Gartner forecasts, spending across the company's core markets is expected to reach ~$46B by 2030. Beyond these categories, Cato continues to benefit from enterprise initiatives around network modernization, security consolidation, cloud migration, and AI adoption, as organizations increasingly seek to replace fragmented networking and security architectures with integrated cloud-native platforms.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in Tel Aviv, Israel with a global customer base and more than 100+ points of presence (PoPs) worldwide.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Palo Alto Networks (PANW), Zscaler (ZS), Cloudflare (NET), Fortinet (FTNT), Cisco (CSCO), Check Point Software (CHKP), Netskope (NTSK) PRIVATE: Versa Networks
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Cato highlights customer success stories across a range of industries, including Swissport, Carlsberg, Fiskars Group, Fullerton Health, Gamuda, Element Solutions, Topcon, and more.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Cato is one of the pioneers of the SASE category, offering a cloud-native platform that converges networking, security, and access controls into a single architecture. The platform integrates SD-WAN, SWG, CASB, ZTNA, Firewall-as-a-Service, and data protection through a unified cloud service, simplifying deployment and management relative to multi-vendor alternatives. Historically strongest in the mid-market, Cato has increasingly expanded into large enterprise and G2K accounts while positioning itself as a consolidated networking and security platform for the AI era following its acquisition of Aim Security. Recent innovations include Cato AI Security, which extends the platform into AI governance and protection, and Cato Neural Edge, which embeds NVIDIA GPUs across Cato's global backbone to support AI-driven security inspection and enforcement.

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Shlomo Kramer serves as Co-Founder and CEO. Kramer previously co-founded Check Point and Imperva. Co-Founder Gur Shatz previously founded Incapsula and helped architect Cato's cloud-native networking platform.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Cato disclosed $415M+ ARR in July 2026 and that the company serves 4,800+ customers globally. The company continues to see increasing adoption among F500 and G2K enterprises.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Cato reported 42% YoY ARR growth in July 2026, surpassing $415M ARR, adding $65M in NNARR since 2025. Growth has been driven by continued enterprise adoption of SASE and security consolidation, with mgmt highlighting increasing traction among F500 and G2K customers, including several multi-million-dollar ARR contracts. Following the acquisition of Aim Security, Cato has also expanded its platform into AI security and governance through the launch of Cato AI Security.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Acquired Aim Security in 2025 to enhance its AI security capabilities and strengthen its ability to secure enterprise AI adoption.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Late-stage private company backed by Vitruvian Partners, ION Crossover Partners, Lightspeed Venture Partners, Acrew Capital, and others.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	Cato's Series G financing and subsequent extension raised a combined $409M in June/Sept 2025 led by new investors Vitruvian Partners and ION Crossover Partners, valuing the company at more than $4.8B and bringing total funding to more than $1B.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: CELONIS

COMPANY NAME	Celonis
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Process Mining / Process Intelligence
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Gartner's 2025 Process Mining Magic Quadrant estimates the market will grow from $870M in 2023 to more than $2B by 2028, an ~18% CAGR. Celonis was also named a Leader in Gartner's 2026 Magic Quadrant for the broader Process Intelligence category, though the report does not disclose a market-size forecast.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Dual-headquartered in Munich and New York City, with 17 offices worldwide.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: SAP Signavio (SAP), IBM Process Mining (IBM), UiPath (PATH), Microsoft Power Automate (MSFT), ServiceNow (NOW), Appian (APPN), and Pegasystems (PEGA) PRIVATE: ARIS and QPR Software
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Celonis serves 1,400+ enterprise customers, including PepsiCo, Accenture, Hitachi Energy, Fujitsu, Uniper, and Standard Bank.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Celonis has expanded from process mining into a system-agnostic Process Intelligence platform that creates a living digital twin of enterprise operations. Its Process Intelligence Graph combines data from underlying systems with business context to identify inefficiencies, prioritize automation, and give AI agents the operational context needed to act reliably. Celonis was positioned highest for Ability to Execute and furthest for Completeness of Vision in Gartner's 2026 Process Intelligence Magic Quadrant, and was also named a Leader in Gartner's 2026 Digital Twin of an Organization report.

SIZE OF COMPANY	Celonis has 3,000+ employees and serves 1,400+ companies across 5,000+ enterprise deployments.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Celonis serves more than one-quarter of the Fortune 500, supported by 250+ technology and consulting partners, and customers have collectively realized over $11.3B in value. It was named a Leader in Everest Group's 2026 Process Mining PEAK Matrix for the seventh consecutive year. Recent growth has centered on enterprise AI, including the 2026 launch of its Context Model, Data Core upgrades, and agent-orchestration capabilities.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Celonis acquired Process Analytics Factory for $100M in March 2022, expanding process mining into Microsoft Power BI, and acquired AI-driven business-process-management provider Symbio in November 2023 to add process modeling and institutional knowledge.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Late-stage private company; latest disclosed funding stage was Series D. Investors include Qatar Investment Authority, Activant Capital, Alta Park Capital, Commonfund Capital, Arena Holdings, T. PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: CIRCLECI

COMPANY NAME	CircleCI
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	DevOps Software / Continuous Integration and Continuous Deployment
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to IDC, the DevSecOps tools market is expected to reach $16B by 2028, while internal analysis at GitLab places the TAM at $40B.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	The company operates with a remote, globally distributed workforce and global customer base and is headquartered in San Francisco, CA, with offices in Boston, Denver, London, Toronto, and Tokyo.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Microsoft GitHub and Azure DevOps in their GitHub Actions functionality (MSFT), GitLab in CI/ CD (GTLB), JFrog Pipelines CI/CD (FROG), Atlassian Bamboo (TEAM) PRIVATE: Harness, Cloudbees, Jenkins.
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	CircleCI can be hosted on a customer's AWS, Azure, or Google Cloud instance. Customers include Airbnb, Procore, ANA, and Cruise.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Relative to the larger "Git" players such as GitHub and GitLab who are attempting to consolidate the majority of DevOps processes into their broader platforms, CircleCI has focused as a CI/CD-centric vendor providing build, test and deployment automation capabilities for the software development lifecycle. CircleCI aims to provide deeper visibility into changes to code, infrastructure, and other dependencies relative to GitHub and GitLab, who primarily focus on changes made to code living within their repositories. More recent product focus has been on supporting both LLMops and AIOps embedding model validations and testing capabilities into emerging enterprise AI use cases and deployments.

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Jim Rose: CEO, formerly co-founder of a number of other developer and commerce companies. Chitra Balasubramanian: CFO, with prior leadership roles at RetailNext
SIZE OF COMPANY	CircleCI had roughly $100M in ARR in early 2022, with thousands of paid customers and 650 total employees. In an August 2024 podcast, CircleCI's CEO noted the company had crossed the $100M revenue mark with about 300 employees globally, less than half of the 650 cited ~3 years earlier.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	As of early 2022, CircleCI disclosed rapid growth encompassing a 360% three-year CAGR, as well as 3 million developer processing jobs per day. In the company's 2026 State of Software Delivery report, average throughput across over 28 million analyzed CI workflows increased 59% y/y.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	CircleCI acquired Paris-based Ponicode in 2022, adding source code analysis and code testing capabilities and acquired Vamp in 2021, a cloud-native release orchestration platform to add continuous validation to the CircleCI platform.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Investors include Greenspring Associates, Eleven Prime, IVP, Sapphire Ventures, Top Tier Capital Partners, Scale, Owl Rock, and Next Equity Partners.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	CircleCI raised $100 million at a $1.7 billion valuation in its Series F round in May 2021.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: CLAROTY

COMPANY NAME	Claroty
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Cybersecurity / Cyber-physical Systems Asset Visibility, Protection, and Threat Detection.
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Claroty has not publicly disclosed a TAM estimate. The company addresses the CPS security market across OT, IIoT, connected medical devices, and broader XIoT environments serving industrial, healthcare, public sector, and critical infrastructure organizations. Gartner has recognized Claroty as a Leader in Cyber-Physical Systems Protection Platforms (CPSPP), reflecting the breadth of its platform across asset visibility, exposure management, threat detection, secure access, and CPS protection.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Claroty is headquartered in New York, NY with a global presence.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: CrowdStrike (CRWD), Palo Alto Networks (PANW), Tenable (TENB), ServiceNow (NOW), Mitsubishi Electric (6503 JP) PRIVATE: Dragos
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Claroty secures cyber-physical environments across critical infra, mnfg, energy, healthcare, pharma, transportation, and public-sec organizations. The company integrates with major security and IT platforms while maintaining strategic relationships across the industrial ecosystem, including Rockwell Automation, Schneider Electric, AWS, and CrowdStrike.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Claroty secures cyber-physical systems (CPS) across OT, IIoT, connected medical devices, building management systems, and broader XIoT environments. Through its cloud-native xDome platform and on-premises offerings, the company provides unified asset visibility, exposure management, threat detection, secure remote access, and CPS protection. Claroty differentiates through deep industrial and healthcare expertise, extensive integrations, and a vendor-agnostic approach to critical infrastructure security. Recent investments, including the CPS Library and expanded xDome capabilities, have reinforced its position as a comprehensive CPS security platform rather than a standalone OT visibility solution.

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	CEO Yaniv Vardi has led Claroty since 2020, following leadership roles at Centrica Business Solutions and Panoramic Power. CFO Udi Bar Sela previously served in finance leadership positions at Ormat and Advanced Vision Technology.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Claroty disclosed ARR exceeding $100M in 2023 and serves more than 1,300 customers globally, including 24 F100 organizations, across industrial, healthcare, critical infrastructure, and public-sector environments. Management stated in January 2026 that the company had reached revenues in the hundreds of millions of dollars.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Management stated in Jan 2026 that Claroty had grown 300%+ over the prior three years. Growth has been driven by increasing adoption of cyber-physical systems (CPS) security across industrial, healthcare, and critical infrastructure environments, while the company continues expanding its platform through xDome, AI-powered asset classification, secure remote access, exposure management, and threat detection capabilities.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In Jan 2022, Claroty acquired Medigate, a healthcare IoT security vendor.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Late-stage private company backed by Golub Growth, SoftBank Vision Fund 2, Bessemer Venture Partners, Delta-v Capital, Standard Industries, and strategic investors including Schneider Electric, Siemens, Rockwell Automation, LG, and Toshiba Digital Solutions.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	Claroty raised $150M in a January 2026 Series F led by Golub Growth, with existing investors committing up to an additional $50M. The round included an estimated $30-40M secondary component and, according to CTech, valued the company at roughly $3B, up ~80% from its prior valuation. Total funding is now ~$700M.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: CLAY

COMPANY NAME	Clay
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Sales / GTM Enablement Platform
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Clay addresses the broader sales and GTM software market, including sales intelligence, prospecting, CRM enrichment, workflow automation, and revenue operations. Given its cross-functional platform approach, the company's addressable opportunity can be viewed as over $50B (Gartner).
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Clay is headquartered in New York and has a global customer base. The company has over 150 agencies, and its community presence spans across more than 90 international clubs.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: ZoomInfo (GTM), HubSpot (HUBS), Salesforce (CRM) PRIVATE: Apollo.io, Cognism, Lusha
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Key customers include OpenAI, Anthropic, Google, Stripe, Rippling, and more.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Clay's AI-powered GTM platform sits above the traditional sales data stack, allowing customers to combine data from 150+ providers with AI-driven research, enrichment, and workflow automation in a single system. Rather than owning the underlying data, Clay's differentiation is its ability to orchestrate fragmented data sources and automate complex go-to-market processes, positioning its platform as the operating layer for AI-driven revenue teams.

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Kareem Amin (Co-Founder & CEO): previously served as VP of Product at the Wall Street Journal. Varun Anand (Co-Founder & Head of Operations): previously served as Director of Operations at Newfront and Head of Expansion at Candid.
SIZE OF COMPANY	In December 2025, Clay surpassed $100M in ARR. As of September 2026, the company has over 18,000 customers, including 80% of the Forbes AI50, and ~1,000 employees.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Clay increased ARR from $1M to $100M in two years. In September 2026, the NYT reported that Clay is on track to reach $200M in ARR in 3Q26, trending toward a $240M annualized run rate. In 2025, the company saw revenue growth 4x, had never churned an enterprise customer, and reported NRR over 200%.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Clay acquired Avenue in January 2025, building out its native intent-signal handling and data warehouse integrations. In April 2025, Claymation was acquired for $1M to formalize content around GTM engineering.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: CLICKHOUSE

COMPANY NAME	ClickHouse
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Data Software / Real Time Analytics and Observability
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to Gartner, the data and analytics market reached $191B in 2025, growing 17%.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	ClickHouse is headquartered in the SF Bay Area, but with 40% of the employee base in the Americas, 45% in EMEA, and 15% in APAC. ClickHouse derives over half of its revenue outside the US.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Snowflake (SNOW), Google BigQuery (GOOGL) and Amazon Redshift (AMZN) on the analytics side, and Datadog (DDOG), Elastic (ESTC), and Cisco Splunk (CSCO) on the observability side. PRIVATE: Databricks, Grafana
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	ClickHouse is available on all three major CSP platforms. Key customers include Meta, OpenAI, Microsoft, Tesla, Anthropic, Sony and Block.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	ClickHouse bills itself as being 100+ times faster than traditional row-based analytics databases (ClickHouse is columnar-based), allowing for more stored "hot data", leading to shorter response times. The company argues that real-time analytics is critical for the deployment of AI agents, such that "agent-facing databases" need to be fast, very fast. ClickHouse argues that "traditional" analytics databases are instead optimized for internal and batch-heavy use cases with performance that is too slow. In contrast to Snowflake that is cloud-optimized, ClickHouse can also be deployed on-premise. Use cases are varied but ClickHouse is often used for log analysis and event tracking, similar to Datadog, with Snowflake more common in enterprise BI use. In early 2026, ClickHouse added a fully-managed, native Postgres service.

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	CEO and co-founder Aaron Katz (led Elastic's GTM efforts until 2020), co-founder and CTO Alexey Milovidov, co-founder and president Yury Izrailevsky, and CFO Jimmy Sexton
SIZE OF COMPANY	ClickHouse's serverless cloud offering crossed $350 million ARR in Aug 2026, up from $250 million in ARR in May and serves over 4,000 customers, adding 1,000 net new customers in the first quarter of 2026. ClickHouse's gross margins range between 50-70%. According to the CEO, the company has the potential to be cash flow positive next year.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	ClickHouse disclosed that it grew revenue for its ClickHouse cloud offering more than 3x over the last year. At the UBS Private AI conference in July 2026, ClickHouse disclosed 4x y/y growth in sales reps to supplement its historical PLG motion.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In Sept 2026, acquired RunReveal, a security data provider built on ClickHouse. In Jan 2026, acquired Langfuse, an open source LLM observability platform. In Nov 2025, acquired LibreChat, an open source AI chat platform for LLM interfacing.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Investors including Dragoneer, Bessemer, Khosla, Index Ventures, Benchmark, Coatue, Altimeter, Lightspeed, GIC, IVP and Nebius among others.

COMPANY NAME	Cloudera
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Data Software / Data Analytics and Management
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to Gartner, the data and analytics market reached $191B in 2025, growing 17%.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	The company is headquartered in Santa Clara, California.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Teradata (TDC), Snowflake (SNOW), Amazon Redshift (AMZN), Azure Synapse and Fabric (MSFT), Google BigQuery (GOOGL), and IBM Confluent (on the streaming side; IBM). PRIVATE: Databricks and Starburst.
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Key customers include Softbank, Mastercard, Dell, Intel, and the CDC.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	With over 25 exabytes of data under management, Cloudera is one of the largest data management platforms in the data analytics landscape offering customers stream processing, data engineering, machine learning and data warehousing capabilities amongst others. Cloudera has leaned heavily into an open data lakehouse architecture (built on Apache Iceberg), originally making the pivot in 2022 (when it first launched its lakehouse) and had over 100 customers using its lakehouse offering in mid-2024 with the company citing accelerating customer interest. Cloudera has also stepped into the AI space with a focus on a secure, private AI framework and flexibility to deploy in any environment via the Cloudera Anywhere Cloud, along with a partnership to support Nvidia's AI-Q Blueprint, Agent Intelligence toolkit, and NIMs.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2008

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Charles Sansbury serves as CEO of Cloudera, previously President and CEO of enterprise IT management software provider ASG prior to joining Cloudera. Dilip Upmanyu serves as CFO of Cloudera, after serving as CFO of ASG technologies prior to appointment.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Cloudera announced that it had over $1 billion in revenue in 2024.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	As of mid-2024, Cloudera was growing its revenue base in the mid-single digits with 30%+ operating margins with Cloudera expecting to accelerate to high single/low double digits growth once past the headwind from shrinking the services business. In its 4Q/Jan 2026 quarter, Cloudera saw 50% y/y growth in new and expansion business and >100% new logo growth.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In Aug 2025, acquired Taikun, a managed Kubernetes and cloud infrastructure vendor. In November 2024, acquired Octopai, a data lineage and catalog platform. In June 2024, acquired Verta, whose Operational AI platform helps customers manage machine learning models, including LLMs, strengthening Cloudera's AI capabilities and AI engineering bench.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Cloudera (which had previously merged with Hortonworks in January 2019) was taken private by KKR & CD&R in June 2021.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	Cloudera was taken private for $5.3B, at $16 per share, which represented a 24% premium.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: COCKROACH

COMPANY NAME	Cockroach Labs
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Data Software / Transactional SQL Database
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to Gartner, the database management systems market will reach $161 billion in 2026, growing 18%.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Cockroach is headquartered in New York with a global customer base. Cockroach made a heavy push into Europe in recent years and in late-2023 expanded into APAC and LATAM.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Oracle (ORCL), Microsoft SQL Server and Azure Postgres (MSFT), Amazon Aurora (AMZN) and MongoDB (MDB). PRIVATE: EDB, Supabase, open-source databases (primarily Postgres and MySQL) which are accessible via all of the major public cloud providers
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Cockroach is available across all three major public clouds (AWS, Azure, GCP).
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Cockroach Labs offers Cockroach DB, a distributed SQL, Postgres-compatible transactional database and is available on-prem/self-hosted as well as through AWS, GCP and Azure. Our checks have flagged that Cockroach continues to differentiate via strong scalability, data residency and security, making it key for high throughput mission critical apps, and is fairly simple from an implementation standpoint. Cockroach's distributed architecture underpins OpenAI's custom-built ChatGPT customer identity and access management solution. Cockroach is making a shift to go after broader enterprise workloads by moving to pooled compute and storage resources across clusters, creating greater price-performance. To target the agentic database opportunity, Cockroach introduced the Continuum Agentic Database Cloud and Cockroach's own Aegis database management agents.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2015

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Spencer Kimball, Co-Founder & CEO: Co-Founded Cockroach Labs with his university colleague Peter Mattis, formerly launched Viewfinder (acquired by Square in 2013) and worked at Google from 2002-11.
SIZE OF COMPANY	We estimate the company is around $150 million ARR in scale today with perhaps 500 employees.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	In March 2023, Cockroach cited 139% expansion rates across the customer base and European expansion driving 100% revenue growth in the region. In August 2024, Cockroach moved all self-hosted product deployments under a single enterprise license, meaning customers over $10M in ARR would be required to pay a fee based on the number of CPU cores deployed. In early 2026, the company cited 'accelerating momentum' as organizations modernized database infrastructure for AI scale, although it's unclear if this comment was tied to revenue.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: COGNITION

COMPANY NAME	Cognition
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Autonomous Coding Agents
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Gartner estimates the enterprise AI coding agent market is running at roughly $9.8 - 11 billion in annualized spend as of April 2026. This assumes ~30M global developers and 20-25M of them using coding agents at $20-50/month. Any further upside from usage-based pricing unlocks even more annual spend.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Cognition is headquartered in San Francisco and is available internationally.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Microsoft (MSFT) Github CoPilot, Gitlab (GTLB) Duo, Google (GOOGL) Gemini Code Assist, SpaceX (SPCX) Cursor PRIVATE: Anthropic Claude Code, Open AI Codex
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Cerebras, Nebius, and other cloud and chip providers. Plus, Frontier and Open-Source model labs. Notable customers include Goldman Sachs, the US DoD, and Palantir.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Cognition offers an integrated software-development platform spanning interactive coding assistance and autonomous, delegated engineering. Its flagship Devin agent can plan and execute multi-step assignments, navigate repositories, write and debug code, run tests, and deliver pull requests, differentiating it from copilots that primarily assist developers inside an IDE. Following its acquisition of Windsurf, Cognition also offers Devin Desktop, combining Tab completions and inline edits with local and cloud-based agents. Cognition provides access to OpenAI, Claude, and Gemini models alongside proprietary SWE models, allowing workloads to be routed based on capability, speed, and cost. The platform also includes Devin Review for pull-request analysis, DeepWiki for codebase documentation, and integrations with GitHub, GitLab, Bitbucket, Slack, Teams, Jira, and Linear. Cognition's principal differentiation is its emphasis on organizationally deployed agents that can absorb backlog work and execute multiple tasks concurrently. It competes with GitHub Copilot's distribution, Cursor's developer adoption, and increasingly capable coding products from frontier-model labs. Pricing ranges from free and $20/month Pro plans to $200/month Max, team, and customized enterprise offerings.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2023

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Cognition was founded in November 2023 in San Francisco, California. It was started by Scott Wu, Steven Hao, and Walden Yan.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Cognition has roughly 350 employees and over $1B in ARR as of September 2026.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Cognition has experienced among the fastest growth in private software, reaching $1 billion in annualized revenue run-rate in September 2026, up from $37M in May 2025.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Cognition acquired Windsurf in July 2025, adding an AI-native IDE, $82M in ARR, and 350+ enterprise customers. In June 2026, Cognition rebranded Windsurf as Devin Desktop, integrating the IDE with Devin's local and cloud-based agents into a unified software-development platform.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include Lux capital, 8VC, Atreides Capital Management, and General Catalyst.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In September 2026, Cognition raised $2 billion at a $48 billion valuation in a Series E led by new investors Andreessen Horowitz and Accel, alongside existing investors Founders Fund, General Catalyst and Avenir. This compares $26 billion post-money valuation achieved during the Series D in May 2026 and the $10.2B valuation achieved in September 2025.

Customers and strategic partners include Royal Bank of Canada, Bell, Fujitsu, LG CNS, Ensemble Health Partners, CoreWeave and Schwarz Group.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Cohere's models and applications are purpose-built for enterprise and government environments rather than consumer use cases. The company differentiates itself through security, privacy, multilingual performance, retrieval and reranking capabilities, verifiable answers, deployment flexibility and customer control over data and infrastructure. Cohere's principal products include the Command model family, Embed, Rerank, North, Compass, Model Vault, Transcribe, Parse, and North Mini Code.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2019
WEBSITE	cohere.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Cohere was founded by Aidan Gomez, Ivan Zhang, and Nick Frosst. Gomez serves as CEO and was one of the eight authors of Attention Is All You Need, the paper that introduced the transformer architecture underlying modern LLMs. Joelle Pineau serves as Chief AI Officer after previously leading Meta's Fundamental AI Research, and François Chadwick serves as CFO.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Cohere generated approximately $240M in ARR in 2025, exceeding its $200M target, while maintaining an average gross margin of approximately 70%. The Aleph Aleph acquisition will increase headcount to over 1,000 employees.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Cohere grew from approximately $70M in annualized revenue in February 2025 to $100M by August 2025 and approximately $240M for full-year 2025 (above its $200M target). In July 2025, The Information reported that Cohere told investors that it projects reaching approximately $4 billion to $5 billion in annualized revenue by 2029, which would represent a 108% CAGR at the midpoint.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Cohere acquired Ottogrid in May 2025, adding enterprise tools for automating market research and structured information workflows. In April 2026, Cohere agreed to acquire Aleph Alpha, a German enterprise and sovereign-AI company. Reuters reported that Cohere shareholders are expected to own approximately 90% of the combined company, while Aleph Alpha shareholders are expected to own approximately 10%. In May 2026, Cohere acquired Reliant AI, a biopharma-focused AI company with operations in Montreal and Berlin.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Investors include Inovia Capital, Radical Ventures, NVIDIA, AMD Ventures, Oracle, Salesforce Ventures, PSP Investments, Cisco Investments, Fujitsu, Business Development Bank of Canada, and Nexxus Capital Management.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: COHESITY

COMPANY NAME	Cohesity
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Data Security & Cyber Resilience / Backup & Recovery, Data Protection, Cyber Recovery & Data Management
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Cohesity provided a TAM of $40B+ in 2024, driven by the rapidly growing need for data protection, replication, and cyber resilience across enterprises globally. This TAM spans backup, disaster recovery, data protection, and AI-driven cyber resilience across on-prem, cloud, and hybrid environments, serving over 13K customers incl. ~70% of the Global 500 after the Veritas acq.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Cohesity is headquartered in San Jose, CA, with offices in North America, Europe, and APAC.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Rubrik (RBRK), Commvault (CVLT), Dell EMC (DELL), Microsoft (MSFT) PRIVATE: Veeam, Druva, Acronis
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Public references include AutoNation, Delta Airlines, Broadcom, HUB, Salesforce, NEC, Toppan, FedEx, Conagra, BMW, United Healthcare, Toyota, Phillips 66, Nasdaq, and Nationwide.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Cohesity provides AI-powered data security, cyber resilience, backup, recovery, and data management solutions. Following its December 2024 combination with Veritas' Enterprise Data Protection business, the company became the largest data protection software provider by market share, serving more than 13,000 customers globally. Cohesity differentiates through its unified Data Cloud platform, broad support for on-premises, cloud, and hybrid workloads, and cyber resilience capabilities such as immutable recovery, ransomware protection, and AI-driven security insights. The company is increasingly positioning itself as a cyber resilience platform that helps organizations protect, recover, secure, and unlock value from their data.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2013
WEBSITE	cohesity.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Sanjay Poonen serves as CEO and President of Cohesity, joining from VMware where he served as COO and helped scale the business while leading strategic cloud partnerships with AWS, Microsoft, Google, and Oracle. Mohit Aron, Founder Emeritus, founded Cohesity in 2013 after previously co-founding Nutanix and serving as its CTO. Eric Brown, CFO and COO, joined Cohesity in 2023 after serving as CFO of Informatica and previously holding CFO roles at McAfee, Electronic Arts, and Polycom.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Cohesity currently has 13,600+ customers including 85+ of the F100 and ⅔ of the G500. In February 2024, Cohesity agreed to combine with Veritas's data protection unit to form a new leader in data management and security.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	The Veritas transaction significantly expanded Cohesity's scale, customer reach, and global footprint. On a pro forma basis for FY24, the combined company generated more than $1.7B of revenue, approximately $1.5B of ARR, and a 28% adjusted cash EBITDA margin. Prior to the merger, standalone Cohesity was growing revenue at 30%+ annually. Management is now focused on driving growth through customer retention, cross-selling, AI-powered data security and cyber resilience offerings, and migrating Veritas customers to DataProtect.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Cohesity's most significant transaction was its acquisition of Veritas's Enterprise Data Protection business, announced in February 2024 and completed in December 2024, creating the largest data protection software provider by market share. In October 2025, Cohesity acquired Stone Ram, a UK-based software company specializing in backup migration and recovery solutions, to help NetBackup customers modernize and migrate to the Cohesity platform with minimal disruption.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Following the acquisition fundraise, Cohesity shareholders include SoftBank Vision fund, Coatue, Sapphire, Sequoia, Wing Venture Capital, Premji, Haveli, and Carlyle.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	On a combined basis, the Cohesity and Veritas entity will have a ~$7B valuation. According to Reuters and Crunchbase, Cohesity raised $1B in equity and $2B in debt to finance the deal with Series G, Series H, and debt financing in December 2024.
VALUATION APPROACHES / METHODOLOGIES USED IN THE SECTOR	Target EV/S (or for scaled, profitable firms, EV/FCF) multiples, based on a comparable peer group average/median.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: DATABRICKS

COMPANY NAME	Databricks
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Data Software / Data Science, Data Analytics, Data Governance, and AI/MLops
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to Gartner, the data and analytics market reached $191B in 2025, growing 17%.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Databricks is headquartered in San Francisco, CA with London and Singapore regional hubs.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Snowflake (SNOW), Microsoft Fabric (MSFT), Amazon Redshift (AMZN), Google BigQuery (GOOGL), Teradata (TDC) PRIVATE: Starburst, Cloudera
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Databricks can be run on all 3 major cloud providers, w/ 1st party solution available from Microsoft via Azure Databricks and more recently with SAP via SAP Databricks. Databricks also offer models from OpenAI, Google, Meta, and Anthropic. Customers include OpenAI, AT&T, Warner Bros Discovery, and Block.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	After starting out selling advanced AI/ML tools to the data scientist persona, Databricks has expanded its offerings to become a more complete data platform built on its core Delta Lake architecture and was the earliest proponent of the shift towards more open data analytics architectures with the data "lakehouse". Databricks developed and open-sourced the Delta Lake table format in 2019, which is now over 1B cumulative downloads. Databricks has also invested in its Databricks SQL data warehousing product that more directly competes with Snowflake. Recently, Databricks has significantly expanded its platform reach with the launch of 1) Agent Bricks for AI agent development, 2) Lakeflow for data ingestion, transformation, and orchestration, 3) Lakebase managed Postgres, 4) Lakewatch for agentic SIEM, 5) Genie Code for AI-assisted engineering and development, 6) CustomerLake agentic Customer Data Platform, and 7) Genie One, an agentic cowork tool leveraging the Genie Ontology.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2013
WEBSITE	Databricks.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Ali Ghodsi serves as CEO after co-founding the company. Mr. Ghodsi was one of the creators of open-source Apache Spark. David Conte serves as CFO and previously served as CFO of Splunk.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Databricks disclosed that it crossed $7 billion ARR in its 2Q/Jul 2026 quarter with positive adj. FCF over the LTM. By product, the DB SQL data warehousing product crossed $1.5 billion ARR while Lakebase crossed $100 million. The company now counts >1k customers over $1 million ARR and >100 customers >$10 million.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Databricks delivered >80% y/y ARR growth in its 2Q/Jul quarter, a continued acceleration. This acceleration was driven in part by Databricks acting as an AI gateway for customers to simply consume AI models and Compute via Databricks credits in recent months, a revs stream which comes at 'very low' GMs. Ex this lift, Databricks disclosed 'core' revs growth of 65%, still an acceleration from 55% in FY26/CY25. DB SQL also grew >100%. In an interview in June, Databricks' CEO noted the company is seeing an acceleration across clouds and regions with more queries coming through Databricks now via agents than humans.

SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Delinea operates across several identity security categories including Privileged Access Management (PAM), Access Management, Identity Governance & Administration (IGA), and User Authentication. Based on Gartner forecasts, spending across these markets is expected to reach ~$32B by 2030. Beyond traditional PAM, Delinea has expanded into machine identity security, authorization, and AI-related identity use cases as organizations increasingly seek to secure human and non-human identities across cloud, SaaS, and AI environments.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in San Francisco, CA, with a global presence. The company expanded operations in Mexico City in 2025 to support continued growth and scale.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED:Palo Alto Networks (PANW), Okta (OKTA), Microsoft (MSFT), SailPoint (SAIL) PRIVATE:Saviynt, 1Password, Ping Identity
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Delinea primarily serves enterprise organizations operating in highly regulated industries including financial services, healthcare, government, manufacturing, and technology.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Delinea is an identity security platform focused on Privileged Access Management (PAM), authorization, and machine identity security. Originally formed through the combination of Thycotic and Centrify, the company has expanded beyond traditional PAM into authorization, governance, auditing, and AI-driven identity protection as organizations seek to secure both human and non-human identities. Delinea differentiates itself through simplified deployment, broad platform capabilities, and a cloud-native architecture that helps enterprises manage privileged access across users, machines, applications, and AI-driven workflows.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	Delinea was created in 2021 through the merger and rebranding of Thycotic and Centrify.
WEBSITE	delinea.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Art Gilliland serves as CEO and previously led Broadcom's Symantec Enterprise Division. Chris Kelly, formerly CRO at CyberArk, joined as President, Go-To-Market in 2025 to lead global sales, channels, and customer success.Tim Regan serves as the CFO as of early 2026.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Delinea crossed $400M ARR by mid-2025. The company serves more than 9,000 organizations globally, including 2/3 of the F100. Delinea has highlighted that recurring revenue represents ~95% of total revenue, while SaaS ARR continues to comprise the majority of its ARR base. Management has also emphasized healthy operating margins and continued strength in SaaS growth in their 1H25 performance update.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Delinea grew ARR from ~$300M in 2023 to $400M+ by mid-2025, with SaaS continuing to represent the majority of ARR. Growth has been driven by enterprise adoption of cloud-based identity security and platform expansion into machine identity security, authorization, ITDR, CIEM, and AI-related use cases.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In March 2026, Delinea acquired StrongDM, expanding its capabilities in infrastructure access, authorization, and secure access management across developer, IT, and cloud environments. The acquisition advanced Delinea's strategy of securing human and non-human identities through centralized authorization. Earlier acquisitions of Authomize and Fastpath in 2024 added CIEM, ITDR, IGA, authorization, and compliance capabilities.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Sponsor-backed private company owned by TPG Capital following its acquisition of Thycotic and subsequent combination with Centrify.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	No recent financing round or valuation has been publicly disclosed. Delinea remains majority owned by TPG Capital following the Thycotic acquisition and subsequent combination with Centrify. In March 2025, reports indicated the company was exploring a potential IPO.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: FACTORY AI

COMPANY NAME	Factory AI
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	AI-Powered Developer Tools
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to Gartner, the enterprise AI coding agent market is estimated at roughly $9.8B to $11.0B annualized as of April 2026. By 2028, it's estimated that 75% of enterprise software engineers will use AI coding assistants.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Factory is headquartered in San Francisco, with offices in NYC, London, Australia, and Japan. The company has a global enterprise customer base (revenue mix has not been disclosed).
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Microsoft GitHub Copilot (MSFT), Google Gemini Code Assist (GOOG), Cursor (SPCX) PRIVATE: Anthropic (Claude Code), OpenAI (Codex), Cognition (Devin), Replit
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Key customers include Nvidia, Adobe, MongoDB, Morgan Stanley, Palo Alto Networks, Ernst & Young, Adyen, and more.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Factory deploys autonomous AI agents, or "Droids," to execute the full software development lifecycle, from planning and coding to testing, review, documentation, and deployment. As part of its Factory 2.0 vision for "software factories," Droids execute long-horizon, multi-step workflows while maintaining context across enterprise systems. Unlike traditional coding assistants or IDE-centric tools, Factory focuses on orchestrating autonomous software development processes rather than simply generating code. A key differentiator is its model-agnostic architecture, which enables enterprises to dynamically route workloads across models based on performance and cost. This capability was expanded with the launch of Factory Router in June 2026, cutting token spend by more than 60%. More recently, Factory introduced OpenCompute, a self-hosted orchestrator for agent sandboxes, currently in private preview. The company targets enterprises with stringent security and governance requirements.We interviewed the company during the UBS Annual Private AI, Software, and Internet Conference- see here for the full interview.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2023
WEBSITE	factory.ai
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Matan Grinberg (Co-founder & CEO): dropped out of doctoral program in theoretical physics to pursue Factory. Eno Reyes (Co-founder & CTO): previously an ML engineer at Hugging Face. Marcello Gallo (CRO): previously in similar roles at Sigma and Moveworks.
SIZE OF COMPANY	As of April 2026, for each of the past 6 months, revenue has doubled m/m (though the company has not publicly disclosed an absolute revenue figure). The company has over 100 employees.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Factory has experienced rapid enterprise adoption, with Droids now being used "by hundreds of thousands" of developers across enterprises. A capital efficiency ratio of 4.29x was cited in July 2025.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Factory acquired Lumetric in May 2026 (team building model-agnostic AI systems for high-context workflows) and Mentlio (model routing and token optimizer) in October 2026.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Investors include Khosla Ventures, Sequoia Capital, Insight Partners, Blackstone, and more.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	$5B valuation (up 3x from 5 months ago) as of September 2026 following its $200M funding round.
VALUATION APPROACHES / METHODOLOGIES USED IN THE SECTOR	Target EV/S (or for scaled, profitable firms, EV/FCF) multiples, based on a comparable peer group average/median.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: FIREWORKS

COMPANY NAME	Fireworks
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Technology / AI Infrastructure / Post-Training and Inference Platform
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Gartner estimates AI-optimized IaaS spending will grow from $42 billion in 2026 to $174 billion in 2030.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in San Mateo, California. Fireworks' global orchestration capabilities extend across 30+ regions and dozens of cloud providers.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Microsoft (MSFT), Amazon (AMZN), Alphabet (GOOG), Oracle (ORCL), CoreWeave (CRWV) and Nebius (NBIS) PRIVATE: Together AI, Baseten, and Modal
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Nvidia and AMD are important hardware suppliers for Fireworks. Cloud providers include Microsoft Azure, Oracle Cloud, GMI Cloud, TensorWave, and IREN. Key customers include Uber, Shopify, Samsung, DoorDash, GitLab, Notion, Upwork, Genspark, Retell AI, Doximity, Harvey, Cursor, UiPath, and StackBlitz.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Fireworks provides a production inference and model customization layer that enables customers to train, fine-tune, deploy, and serve open source or proprietary models without directly managing GPU clusters and low level inference infrastructure. Its platform supports serverless APIs, dedicated deployments, fine-tuning, multimodal models, embeddings, reranking, and an OpenAI-compatible developer interface. Fireworks stated that its platform can deliver equivalent-quality inference at approximately one-fifth to one-tenth the cost of closed model alternatives for certain workloads. We interviewed the company during our 2026 UBS Annual Private AI, Software, and Internet Conference, and see here for the full interview.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2022
WEBSITE	fireworks.ai
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Fireworks was founded by Lin Qiao and six other former Meta engineers, including Dmytro Dzhulgakov, Dmytro Ivchenko, James Reed, Chenyu Zhao, Benny Yufei Chen, and Pawel Garbacki. Qiao serves as Chief Executive Officer.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Fireworks surpassed $1B in annualized revenue run rate in July 2026. The company has ~200 employees with plans to scale to 600 by year-end 2026.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Fireworks' annualized revenue increased from approximately $300M in early 2026 to more than $1B by July 2026, up 5x y/y from its last funding round. Daily token volume nearly tripled from 15T to more than 40T over the same period. Growth is being supported by greater enterprise adoption of open models, agentic token consumption, and customer efforts to reduce dependence on expensive closed model APIs. Model specialization is also taking meaningful share, with ~95% of token volume now coming from specialized models.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Fireworks acquired Hathora in March 2026, adding a global container-orchestration platform designed for latency-sensitive, real-time workloads. Hathora's technology routes containers across 14 regions, several bare metal infrastructure providers and four public clouds, strengthening Fireworks' ability to manage GPU capacity across providers.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include Atreides Management, Index Ventures, TCV, NVIDIA, Lightspeed Venture Partners, Evantic Capital, Bessemer Venture Partners, Insight Partners, Lone Pine Capital, Menlo Ventures, Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan, 20VC, Operator Collective, Original Capital, Prysm Capital, Quantum Capital, and TIME Ventures. Fireworks is Series D-stage and has raised approximately $1.8B across its disclosed financing rounds.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In July 2026, Fireworks raised $1.5B in a Series D at a $17.5B valuation.
VALUATION APPROACHES / METHODOLOGIES USED IN THE SECTOR	Target EV/S (or for scaled, profitable firms, EV/FCF) multiples, based on a comparable peer group average/median.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: FIVETRAN

COMPANY NAME	Fivetran
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Data Software / Data Integration, Data Movement, Data Transformation, Data Activation, Data Quality, Metadata Management & AI-Ready Data Infrastructure.
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Fivetran addresses the data integration, transformation, activation, quality, metadata, and broader data-management software markets. Gartner estimated that the data-integration tools market reached $5.9B in 2024 and forecasts an 8.1% CAGR through 2029. Gartner separately forecasts worldwide spending on data-management software excluding DBMS will reach $21.6B by 2029, while the broader data and analytics software market is projected to reach $358B by 2029.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Fivetran is headquartered in Oakland, California and serves customers globally across North America, Europe, Asia-Pacific, and other international markets.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Salesforce/Informatica (CRM), Microsoft (MSFT), Amazon (AMZN), Alphabet (GOOG), IBM (IBM), Oracle (ORCL), Snowflake (SNOW), SAP (SAP) PRIVATE: Databricks, Qlik, Matillion, Airbyte, Denodo, Coalesce, Alation, Collibra
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Microsoft Azure, Amazon Web Services, Google Cloud, Snowflake, and Databricks are important cloud, data-platform, and integration partners. The combined company serves more than 10,000 customers and supports more than 100,000 data teams. Publicly referenced customers include OpenAI, Zendesk, Coupa, HubSpot, LVMH, Pfizer, Verizon, Spotify, Autodesk, Square, ASICS, and Forever 21.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Fivetran initially differentiated through automated, prebuilt data connectors that continuously replicate data while reducing the engineering and maintenance required for traditional ETL pipelines. Following its merger with dbt Labs, the company now offers a broader open data-infrastructure platform spanning ingestion, replication, transformation, testing, quality, semantic context, metadata, and activation. The combined platform competes on automation, reliability, interoperability, and support for open standards such as SQL and Apache Iceberg. The company launched limited public preview of the Fivetran Context Layer in October 2026.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2012
WEBSITE	fivetran.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Fivetran was founded by George Fraser and Taylor Brown. George Fraser serves as CEO, Taylor Brown serves as COO, and Suresh Seshadri serves as CFO.
SIZE OF COMPANY	The combined Fivetran and dbt Labs company generates ~$600M in ARR. PitchBook estimates that standalone Fivetran employed ~1,850 people and dbt Labs ~900 people.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Fivetran grew ARR from approximately $200M in 2023 to more than $300M in 2024. The completed dbt Labs merger created a company with ~$600M in ARR and over 10,000 customers, while expanding Fivetran's addressable product footprint from data movement into transformation, semantic modeling, quality, governance, and AI-agent context. Recent joint products include dbt Core v2.0, dbt State, dbt Wizard, AI Connector Builder, and Agents Schema, providing additional opportunities for cross-selling and platform consolidation.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Fivetran acquired Census, a data activation platform, in May 2025, and Tobiko Data, the creator of SQLMesh, in September 2025. On June 1, 2026, Fivetran completed its all-stock merger with dbt Labs, unifying data movement, transformation, testing and governed business context.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include Andreessen Horowitz, General Catalyst, CEAS Investments, Matrix Partners, ICONIQ Capital, D1 Capital Partners, and YC Continuity. Fivetran raised approximately $730M before its merger with dbt Labs.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In September 2021, Fivetran raised $565M in a Series D at a $5.6B valuation, led by a16z. Fivetran completed its all-stock merger with dbt Labs in June 2026; Fivetran CEO George Fraser told Reuters that the combined business was worth more than Fivetran's standalone valuation.
VALUATION APPROACHES / METHODOLOGIES USED IN THE SECTOR	Target EV/S (or for scaled, profitable firms, EV/FCF) multiples, based on a comparable peer group average/median.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: FLOCK SAFETY

COMPANY NAME	Flock Safety
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Hardware and SaaS / Public Safety Technology, Automated License Plate Recognition & Video and Investigative Intelligence.
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Flock Safety addresses the physical-security, video-surveillance, public-safety technology, drone-security, and AI-powered investigative software markets. Research and Markets estimates that the global physical-security market will grow from $147.4B in 2024 to $216.4B by 2030, representing a 6.5% CAGR. Mordor Intelligence separately estimates that the global video-surveillance systems market will grow from $71.7B in 2026 to $118.8B by 2031.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Flock Safety is headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia and primarily serves customers in the United States. The company's technology is deployed across 49 states.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Axon Enterprise (AXON), Motorola Solutions (MSI), Alarm.com (ALRM), Johnson Controls (JCI) PRIVATE: Verkada, Eagle Eye Networks, Rhombus, Spot AI, Kastle, Genetec, Peregrine, Skydio
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	In March 2025, Flock stated that its customers included 4 of the National Retail Federation's 10 largest retailers, 7 of the 10 largest U.S. malls, and 10 of the 40 largest U.S. health systems.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Flock Safety offers a subscription-based public-safety platform combining license-plate readers, video cameras, drones, emergency-response software, and investigative intelligence within FlockOS. The company differentiates through an end-to-end operating model that includes hardware, permitting, installation, connectivity, maintenance, cloud software, AI analytics, and cross-jurisdictional collaboration. Flock's diversification is increasingly important, with the company confirming to Fortune that more than half of new revenue comes from products other than license-plate readers.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2017
WEBSITE	flocksafety.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Flock Safety was founded by Garrett Langley (CEO), Matt Feury and Paige Todd.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Flock Safety told Fortune that it crossed $500M in ARR during the first half of 2026. The company serves approximately 12,000 communities, roughly 7,000 police departments and ~1,000 businesses, and has installed more than 100,000 automated license-plate readers nationwide. PitchBook estimates that Flock employs approximately 1,500 people, however the company plans to let go 18% of its employees in October amidst persistent backlash.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Flock Safety grew from more than $300M in ARR in 2024 to more than $500M during the first half of 2026. Flock faces increasing political, legal, and municipal scrutiny over privacy, data retention, cross-agency sharing and institutional misuse. Fortune reported that 82 Flock contracts were terminated between August 2021 and May 2026, including 39 terminations during the first five months of 2026. In August 2026 alone, ~93 cities ended their contracts.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Flock Safety acquired public-safety drone company Aerodome in October 2024, adding automated docking, remote-piloting, airspace-management, and Drone-as-First-Responder capabilities. In January 2025, Flock acquired Uniform Sierra Aerospace to expand its drone capabilities.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include a16z, Tiger Global, Greenoaks Capital, Bedrock Capital, Meritech Capital, Matrix Partners, Sands Capital, Founders Fund, Kleiner Perkins, Y Combinator, Initialized Capital, and Seven Seven Six. Cumulative funding as of August 2026 is approximately $1.2B.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In 1H 2026, Flock Safety raised $500M at an $8.3B valuation, according to figures the company provided to Fortune.
VALUATION APPROACHES / METHODOLOGIES USED IN THE SECTOR	Target EV/S (or for scaled, profitable firms, EV/FCF) multiples, based on a comparable peer group average/median.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: GENESYS

COMPANY NAME	Genesys
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Contact Center Infrastructure / Contact Center as a Service (CCaaS)
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	$52B by 2029 for Contact Center & Gen AI Support (Gartner).
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Genesys is headquartered in California with offices and customers across the globe.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Cisco (CSCO), Nice (NICE), Five9 (FIVN) PRIVATE: Avaya, Mitel, Talkdesk
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Key customers include Walmart, Coca-Cola, Shell, American Airlines, Bank of America, and more.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Genesys is routinely recognized by Gartner, IDC, and Forrester as a leader in the space. The on-premise contact center (CC) markets have historically been dominated by Avaya, Cisco, Genesys and Mitel but over the last 2 decades several cloud-native companies have entered the space in an attempt to migrate on-premise vendors to the cloud. Genesys has been successful in their cloud pivot, and did so earlier than some of their competitors like Avaya. While Genesys Engage (the on-prem product) will still receive support until 2028, Genesys is more focused on its Genesys Cloud CX platform which is differentiated due to its API-first/microservices architecture, global scalability, all-in-one platform (supporting multiple channels, AI, and analytics in one solution), and embedded AI capabilities (predicative routing, AI agents, agent assist).
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	1990
WEBSITE	genesys.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Tony Bates (Chairman & CEO): led Cisco's Service Provider business and former CEO of Skype, also on the Okta board of directors. Brian Swartz (CFO): previously served as the CFO of Cornerstone OnDemand.
SIZE OF COMPANY	In September 2026, Genesys disclosed that the Genesys Cloud Platform reached nearly $2.9B in ARR in 2QFY27, with Genesys Cloud AI ARR reaching more than $400M. More than 7,500 organizations use Genesys Cloud, including over 600 customers with more than $1M in Genesys Cloud ARR. The company has over 6,000 employees.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Genesys Cloud Platform ARR grew 30% y/y in 2QFY27 and NRR again exceeded 120%. The company continues to expand its global footprint, with nearly 45% of Genesys Cloud revenue coming from outside North America.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In June 2026, Genesys acquired Pinkish (terms undisclosed) to accelerate autonomous customer experiences, and in January 2024 acquired Radarr (terms undisclosed), a social and digital data analytics company.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Investors include Permira, Hellman & Friedman, Salesforce, ServiceNow, Zoom, Blackrock, and D1 Capital.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	$1.5B investment by Salesforce and ServiceNow in July 2025, valuing Genesys at $15B. The company had a valuation of $21B in December 2021, following its $580M funding raise.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: GLEAN

COMPANY NAME	Glean
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	AI-powered Enterprise Search
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Fortune Business Insights estimates the global enterprise search market will grow from $6.4B in 2026 to $12.8B by 2034, representing a 9.0% CAGR. However, this likely understates Glean's broader TAM because the company has expanded beyond search into AI assistants, enterprise agents, workflow automation, governance, and developer tools.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Glean is headquartered in Palo Alto and has expanded internationally, including through offices and commercial teams across North America, EMEA, and Asia-Pacific.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Microsoft (MSFT) Copilot, Alphabet (GOOG) Gemini Enterprise, Salesforce (CRM) Agentforce, Atlassian (TEAM) Rovo, Elastic (ESTC) PRIVATE: OpenAI, Anthropic, Perplexity Enterprise, Hebbia, Moveworks, and other enterprise AI search and agent platforms
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Glean supports models from frontier lab providers through AWS, Microsoft Azure, and Google Cloud, while maintaining a model-agnostic architecture. Integrations and partnerships include Dell, Palo Alto Networks, Snowflake, Workday, Databricks, Salesforce, Jira, GitHub, Slack, and Microsoft 365. Notable customers include Databricks, Reddit, Hubspot, Samsung, and Pure Storage.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Glean has developed a permissions-aware enterprise AI platform that connects employees and agents to internal applications, data, people, and business processes. Its Context Graph indexes information across systems such as Slack, Microsoft 365, Salesforce, Jira, and GitHub while preserving source-level access permissions. Initially differentiated through enterprise search, Glean has expanded into Glean Assistant, Glean Agents, agent development and governance, deep research, content generation, and workflow execution. Glean Agents enables enterprises to build and deploy agents grounded in company-specific context, with debugging, tracing, governance, and performance measurement across the agent lifecycle. The platform supports MCP and actions across applications including Salesforce, Jira, GitHub, Confluence, and Google Calendar. Glean's principal differentiation is its cross-application Context Graph, which can improve answer quality and lower token consumption by retrieving relevant information before sending requests to frontier models. Its model-neutral strategy allows customers to use multiple LLMs and avoid dependence on one provider. The primary competitive risk is bundling from Microsoft, Google, Salesforce, and Atlassian; Glean counters with deeper cross-application context, permissions architecture, and model flexibility. We interviewed the company during the UBS Annual Private AI, Software, and Internet Conference- see here for the full interview.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2019
WEBSITE	glean.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	CEO and founder Arvind Jain previously co-founded Rubrik and served as a distinguished engineer at Google. Glean's founding team includes former engineers from Google, Meta, and Dropbox.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Glean disclosed more than 850 employees in June 2025. The company reached $300M in ARR in May 2026, from both subscriptions and consumption.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Glean tripled its ARR in 15 months and has also nearly doubled its Fortune 500 customer count year-over-year.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	No major M&A activity.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include Wellington, Altimeter, Capital One Ventures, Coatue, General Catalyst, Sapphire Ventures, Sequoia Capital, and SoftBank.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	Glean raised $150M at a $7.2B valuation in its June 2025 Series F. This compares with a $4.6B valuation in its September 2024 Series E and implies ~24x Glean's May 2026 ARR of $300M.
VALUATION APPROACHES / METHODOLOGIES USED IN THE SECTOR	Target EV/S (or for scaled, profitable firms, EV/FCF) multiples, based on a comparable peer group average/median.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: GONG

COMPANY NAME	Gong
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Revenue Intelligence / AI-Powered Sales Platform
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Fortune Business Insights estimates the global sales-intelligence market at $4.85B in 2025 and projects it to reach $12.45B by 2034, an 11.1% CAGR. This is a narrower benchmark than Gong's broader Revenue AI opportunity across conversation intelligence, sales engagement, forecasting, enablement, and revenue operations.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in San Francisco, with offices in New York, Chicago, Atlanta, Lehi, Dublin, Tel Aviv, and Singapore.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: ZoomInfo (GTM), Salesforce (CRM), HubSpot (HUBS), and Microsoft (MSFT) PRIVATE: Clari, Salesloft, Outreach, and Revenue.io
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Gong has 5,000+ customers, including ADP, Google, Nasdaq, Canva, Zillow, Autodesk, Dropbox, Snowflake, and Pinterest.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Gong has evolved from conversation intelligence into a Revenue AI operating system spanning sales engagement, forecasting, enablement, coaching, and agentic workflow automation. Its Revenue Graph captures customer interactions across calls, meetings, emails, and deals, giving its proprietary AI models revenue-specific context to recommend and execute next actions. This integrated data and workflow layer differentiates Gong from point solutions, while increasing overlap with Salesforce, Microsoft, ZoomInfo, Clari, Salesloft, and Outreach. Gong was named a Leader in Gartner's 2025 Magic Quadrant for Revenue Action Orchestration, placing highest for Ability to Execute and furthest for Completeness of Vision.

SIZE OF COMPANY	Gong has surpassed $500M in ARR (as of May 2026) and serves 5,000+ customers, including half of the Fortune 10. As of September 2025, Gong had more than 4,700 customers (up from 4,500+ in July 2023) including half the Fortune Top 10, and had 1,100+ employees and 6 offices globally.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	In May 2026, Gong reported more than 55% year-over-year growth in its latest quarter and its tenth consecutive quarter of accelerating growth, with ARR surpassing $500M, up from $300M + in fiscal 2025. Half of customers now use multiple Gong products, flagship AI usage grew more than 200% year over year, and the company added more $1M+ customers in the prior two quarters than in the previous six combined.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Gong has not been active on the M&A front.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: GRAFANA

COMPANY NAME	Grafana Labs
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Technology / Software / Observability
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Gartner sizes the observability market at $28 billion in 2026, which they expect to increase at a 11% CAGR to $43 billion in 2030.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Grafana is headquartered in New York, with customers around the globe.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Dynatrace (DT), Elastic (ESTC), Datadog (DDOG), Palo Alto Networks (Chronosphere), Cisco (Splunk) PRIVATE: New Relic
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Key customers include Nvidia, Palantir, Salesforce, Microsoft, Adobe, Dell Technologies and more.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Observability vendors have faced pricing pushback over the last several years as enterprises have increasingly scrutinized spend and sought cost-efficient alternatives. Grafana is well positioned to benefit from this trend, given its open-source roots and open observability strategy. More recently, the company introduced AI-powered capabilities including Grafana Assistant, Assistant Investigations, Adaptive Telemetry, and Agent Observability, addressing both AI-powered troubleshooting and monitoring of AI spend. What began as a visualization layer has now expanded to a complete observability platform, positioning Grafana to compete more directly with larger vendors.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2014
WEBSITE	grafana.com/
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Raj Dutt (Co-founder & CEO): CEO of Grafana Labs since 2015. Prior to Grafana, Dutt worked for Internap Network Services as SVP of Technology following the acquisition of Voxel, a cloud and hosting company he founded in 1999, which was acquired by Internap in 2012.
SIZE OF COMPANY	In August 2026, Grafana surpassed $600M in ARR, up from $400M in ARR in September 2025. The company has more than 10,000 customers globally and 35M users.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	In August 2026, the CEO stated that AI was a major driver of the company's accelerating growth, fueled by increasing adoption from both AI companies and existing customers using Grafana's AI products (average product adoption per contracted customer nearly 2x over the past two years from 2.3 to 4.4 products). Grafana launched six new AI features in July, and more than 18,000 organizations actively use Grafana Assistant, now the fastest-growing product in the company's history. Management also noted that Adaptive Telemetry has reduced potential revenue by nearly $100M by helping customers lower observability costs, though it believes this has improved long-term revenue quality. Grafana Cloud continues to scale rapidly, with monthly active users increasing from approximately 127,000 to 251,000+ over the last two years, over 1.1M distinct users logging into the platform during that period, and more than 500,000 Grafana Cloud signups generated in the past two years.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Most recently, Grafana acquired Logline in April 2026, a company that specializes in the execution of queries and full text search. Grafana also acquired TailCtrl in September 2024, Asserts.ai in November 2023, Pyroscope in March 2023 and k6 in June 2021.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Investors include GIC, Sequoia Capital, Coatue, Lightspeed Venture Partners, Lead Edge Capital, and JPM amongst others.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In August 2024, Grafana announced that the company had raised $270M, which was an extension of its Series D financing at a valuation of over $6B, led by Lightspeed. In February 2026, The Information reported that Grafana was in talks to raise additional funding at a $9B valuation.

COMPANY NAME	Gusto (formerly ZenPayroll)
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Apps / Human Capital Management, Payroll, HR Software, Benefits Administration, Retirement Services, Business Compliance, Workforce Management & Embedded Payroll Infrastructure.
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Gusto addresses the global human-capital-management, payroll, benefits, retirement, compliance, and HR-software markets. At its June 2025 Investor Day, ADP estimated that it operates within a $180B+ global HCM market. Gusto's core U.S. opportunity includes approximately 6M employers, while its expansion into retirement plans, embedded payroll, compliance, financial services, and AI-powered business administration broadens its addressable market beyond core payroll.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Gusto is headquartered in San Francisco and maintains significant operations in Denver and NY.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Automatic Data Processing (ADP), Paychex (PAYX), Paylocity (PCTY), Paycom Software (PAYC), Intuit (INTU), and TriNet Group (TNET) PRIVATE: Rippling, Deel, OnPay, Justworks, BambooHR, Human Interest, and Remote
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Gusto serves more than 500,000 small businesses, up from more than 400,000 in 2025. Over 23k accounting firms use Gusto Pro as of October 2026. The company also distributes payroll infrastructure through Gusto Embedded, enabling vertical-software and financial-platform partners to offer payroll services within their own products.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Gusto provides an integrated SMB platform spanning payroll, tax compliance, health benefits, 401(k) plans, HR, hiring, time tracking, tax credits, financial tools, and business compliance. The company differentiates through ease of use, ownership of the payroll system of record, a large direct SMB customer base, and the ability to cross-sell adjacent products into trusted, high-frequency payroll workflows.AI-enabled workflows and integrations with ChatGPT, Claude, and Slack allow business owners to complete administrative tasks using natural language.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: HARNESS

COMPANY NAME	Harness
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	DevOps / DevSecOps / FinOps
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to IDC, the DevSecOps tools market is expected to reach $16B by 2028, while internal analysis at GitLab places the TAM at $40B.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Harness is headquartered in San Francisco with offices in Europe and India.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Microsoft GitHub and Azure DevOps (MSFT), GitLab (GTLB), JFrog (FROG), Atlassian (TEAM). PRIVATE: CircleCI, Cloudbees, Jenkins.
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Key customers include Citi, United Airlines, Home Depot, and VMware.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Harness primarily focuses on continuous software delivery-as-a-platform targeting DevOps teams to automate application deployment into production, leveraging machine learning to assess deployment quality and automatically rolling back to prior stable releases if needed. Like other DevOps vendors, Harness' platform has folded in application security offerings (particularly with the Traceable merger), including application security testing, delivery pipeline checks, and more recently AI code security features, but uniquely has also moved into FinOps by offering modules to help customers optimize their cloud compute resource utilization, maximizing existing cloud commitments. While Harness has expanded offerings beyond CI/CD, the platform is flexible, allowing customers to pick and choose specific modules, as opposed to receiving an all-encompassing product suite such as GitLab. To capture the AI coding wave, Harness released multiple agents including Code Agent for intelligent suggestions and DevOps Agent for stage and pipeline management along with policy generation and integration. To help organizations track ROI of AI coding spend, Harness also released the AI DLC agent capable of mapping token spend to shipped output (the company's State of Engineering Excellence 2026 report highlighted a gap between AI coding advancements and productivity measurement capabilities) along with its Cloud and AI Cost Management tool for spend optimization and governance for AI.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: HEBBIA

COMPANY NAME	Hebbia
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Enterprise AI Agents for Financial and Legal Knowledge Work
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Fortune Business Insights estimates that the AI agents in financial services market will increase from $2.0B in 2026 to $5.7B by 2034, while the legal AI software market will grow from $5.2B to $40.9B over the same period. Together, these categories imply a core addressable market of approximately $7.2B in 2026, expanding to $46.7B by 2034, before including Hebbia's opportunities in consulting, corporate research, and other knowledge-work functions.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Hebbia is headquartered in New York City, with offices in San Francisco and EMEA.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Microsoft (MSFT) Copilot, Palantir (PLTR) AIP, Thomson Reuters (TRI) CoCounsel PRIVATE: AlphaSense, Harvey, Glean, Rogo, Perplexity Enterprise, OpenAI, Anthropic
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Hebbia's multi-provider architecture routes requests across model families and inference providers, but Microsoft Azure and OpenAI are important infrastructure and model suppliers. Notable customers include BlackRock, Carlyle, Centerview, Seyfarth Shaw, and Troutman Pepper Locke. Hebbia has stated that its customers include 40% of the largest asset managers by AUM.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Hebbia offers an enterprise AI platform that automates complex, document-intensive knowledge work across financial services, legal, and other professional environments. Its flagship Matrix product uses multiple agents to analyze structured and unstructured data, including filings, earnings transcripts, research, contracts, presentations, data rooms, and internal documents, delivering citation-backed results in a spreadsheet-like interface. Hebbia also offers Max, an AI assistant positioned as additional deal-team capacity for banking, private equity, legal, and corporate-finance users. Its principal differentiation is specialization in high-stakes institutional workflows where accuracy, auditability, proprietary data, and domain-specific outputs matter. Financial-data integrations and the FlashDocs acquisition, which added branded PowerPoint generation, further embed Hebbia into professional workflows. Hebbia competes with Microsoft, OpenAI, Glean, AlphaSense, Rogo, and Harvey, and sells through customized enterprise contracts.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: HIGGSFIELD

COMPANY NAME	Higgsfield
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Creative / Design AI Software
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Higgsfield operates at the intersection of generative media, creative software, and digital advertising. As brands and enterprises increasingly adopt generative AI workflows, the company is positioned within a large and growing TAM.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Higgsfield is headquartered in San Francisco and has a global customer base.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Google (GOOG), Adobe (ADBE), Shuttershock (SSTK) PRIVATE: Canva, Runway, Pika Labs, Luma AI, Kling AI
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Customers: social media marketers, brands, advertising agencies, and direct-to-consumer advertisers producing commercial marketing content. The company also has fast adoption amongst enterprises, spanning advertising, media and entertainment, broadcasting, fashion, retail, financial services, and pharmaceuticals. Suppliers: NVIDIA is the primary GPU supplier, delivered through cloud partners including Nebius AI Cloud and GMI Cloud. The company also utilizes AMD GPUs through TensorWave.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Higgsfield differentiates from point-solution AI video generators through a multi-model, end-to-end creative platform that brings together 50+ leading image, video, and audio models. Rather than competing primarily at the foundation-model layer, Higgsfield focuses on orchestration, providing a unified environment for content generation, editing, storyboarding, character consistency, cinematic controls, and VFX. Its proprietary tools, including Soul/Soul ID, Cinema Studio, Marketing Studio, and Supercomputer, layer differentiated workflows on top of increasingly commoditized foundation models, while MCP and CLI integrations embed Higgsfield into enterprise applications. We interviewed the company during the UBS Annual Private AI, Software, and Internet Conference- see here for the full interview.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: INSTINCT

COMPANY NAME	Instinct
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Consumer AI / Personal AI Agents
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	We estimate Instinct's TAM is in the hundreds of billions of dollars given the breadth of sectors and services its personal AI agent touches, including commerce, travel, local services, communications and other everyday consumer transactions. According to Gartner, AI Agents are predicted to outnumber sellers 10 to 1 in 2028.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Instinct is headquartered in San Francisco, California and has a global customer base.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Muse (META), Grok Bot (SPCX), Autopilot (MSFT) PRIVATE: Dots (OpenAI), Town, Wajo, Ollie
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	The company has not disclosed key customers yet but is targeted to general consumers. However, Instinct gained initial traction in private beta among Silicon Valley technologists and venture capitalists.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Instinct is positioning itself as a consumer AI agent that can execute real-world tasks end-to-end, differentiating it from traditional AI chatbots. Users can interact with Instinct through text or phone and delegate activities such as planning trips, buying groceries, booking tickets and cancelling subscriptions, with Instinct executing the task as the operator. The company is broadening its capabilities through Instinct Concierge for higher-touch tasks involving phone calls and bookings, as well as a Trusted Person Network that allows users' Instinct agents to coordinate with one another. Long-term differentiation will likely hinge on execution reliability.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: ISLAND.IO

COMPANY NAME	Island.io
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Enterprise Browser Security / Secure Enterprise Browser, Zero Trust Access & Digital Workspace Security
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Island has not publicly disclosed a TAM figure. The company operates within the emerging Secure Enterprise Browser (SEB) category, which sits at the intersection of endpoint security, zero trust access, browser isolation, and digital workspace security. Gartner estimates that fewer than 10% of organizations have currently adopted a Secure Enterprise Browser, but projects that 25% of organizations will deploy at least one SEB technology by 2028 to augment existing secure remote access and endpoint security tools.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in Dallas, Texas, the company also has offices in London and Tel Aviv.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED:CrowdStrike (CRWD), Palo Alto Networks (PANW), Check Point Software (CHKP), Microsoft (MSFT), Cloudflare (NET), Zscaler (ZS), Netskope (NTSK), Alphabet/Google (GOOG) PRIVATE: N/A
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Public customer references include Amazon, American Airlines, Bank of America, Citi, Pfizer, PayPal, Marriott International, T-Mobile, Chipotle, Swiss Life, Fiverr, and Peloton, highlighting Island's adoption across financial services, healthcare, travel, hospitality, telecommunications, consumer, and technology organizations.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Island is a pioneer in the Secure Enterprise Browser category, embedding security, governance, and productivity controls directly into the browser. Built on Chromium, the platform enables organizations to enforce zero-trust policies, secure data access, assess device posture, and protect enterprise applications without requiring significant changes to existing infrastructure or workflows. Island has expanded beyond the browser into data protection, DLP, and next-generation SASE, positioning its platform as a unified control plane spanning last-mile access, network, data, identity, and observability. More recently, Island has extended these capabilities to AI agents, enabling enterprises to apply visibility, access controls, guardrails, and governance across both human and agentic activity.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: LAMBDA

COMPANY NAME	Lambda
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	AI Infrastructure / GPU Cloud
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Fortune Business Insights estimates the global AI infrastructure market will grow from $75.4B in 2026 to $498.0B by 2034, representing a 26.6% CAGR. The narrower AI data center market is expected to increase from $21.3B to $133.5B over the same period.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Lambda is headquartered in San Francisco and primarily operates AI infrastructure across North America.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Microsoft (MSFT) Azure, Amazon (AMZN) AWS, Alphabet (GOOG) GCP, Oracle (ORCL) Cloud Infrastructure, CoreWeave (CRWV), Nebius (NBIS) PRIVATE: Crusoe, Nscale, Fluidstack, Vultr, Voltage Park, RunPod
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	NVIDIA is Lambda's principal GPU supplier, strategic investor, and largest disclosed customer. Other notable customers and partners include Microsoft, Amazon, Hudson River Trading, Samsung, Sony, Iambic Therapeutics, and Intuitive Surgical.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Lambda offers NVIDIA-based GPU infrastructure for AI training and inference through on-demand instances, 1-Click Clusters, Private Cloud, and hyperscale Superclusters. Historically differentiated as a developer-friendly GPU cloud serving AI researchers, startups, and technical teams, Lambda has expanded toward large, multi-year infrastructure deployments for hyperscalers and frontier-model customers. Its self-service offering provides transparent per-GPU-hour pricing, per-minute billing, preconfigured machine-learning software, and no data-egress fees, while reserved clusters support workloads ranging from 16 to more than 2,000 GPUs. Lambda competes primarily on GPU availability, price, cluster performance, networking, and deployment speed. Current on-demand pricing includes approximately $3.99 per hour for H100 SXM and $6.69 for B200 GPUs, with reserved deployments priced through customized contracts.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: LANGCHAIN

COMPANY NAME	LangChain
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	AI Apps / AI Developer Tools, Agent Engineering, Agent Orchestration, LLM Observability, Evaluation & Deployment Infrastructure
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Gartner forecasts spending on AI application-development platforms to be $9.5B in 2026 and $12.5B in 2027, and spending on AI agents/assistants to be $29.2B in 2026 and $65.5B in 2027.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	LangChain is headquartered in San Francisco and has offices in NY, Boston and Amsterdam.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Datadog (DDOG), Microsoft (MSFT), Alphabet (GOOG), Amazon (AMZN), Salesforce (CRM), ServiceNow (NOW), Dynatrace (DT) with Arize, and Cisco (CSCO). PRIVATE: LlamaIndex, Humanloop, Braintrust, CrewAI, Weights & Biases, and Pydantic.
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Key cloud providers for LangChain include AWS and Google Cloud. LangChain also partners with infrastructure providers such as NVIDIA for enterprise agentic AI, MongoDB for database and cloud deployment, Nebius for TokenFactory integration and Fireworks and Baseten for fine-tuning infra. Customers include Replit, Clay, Harvey, Rippling, Cloudflare, Workday, Cisco, Klarna, LinkedIn, Uber, Salesforce, Toyota, Lyft, Schneider Electric, Morningstar, GitLab, Elastic, ServiceNow and Rakuten.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	LangChain uses popular open-source frameworks as a distribution funnel into LangSmith, its commercial platform for agent observability, evaluation, deployment, governance and improvement. LangChain provides higher-level components for quickly building agents, while LangGraph provides lower-level orchestration, durable execution, memory, human oversight and control over long-running or multi-agent workflows. LangSmith is framework- and model-agnostic, allowing customers to monitor and evaluate agents built with LangChain or other technology stacks.The company differentiates through its large developer community, broad model integrations, open architecture and coverage of the full agent-development lifecycle.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	Project launched 2022; founded in 2023
WEBSITE	langchain.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	LangChain was founded by Harrison Chase and Ankush Gola. Chase serves as CEO and Julia Schottenstein as COO.
SIZE OF COMPANY	LangChain's open-source frameworks generate more than 350M monthly downloads, the company has over 1B open-source downloads and Engine has processed 60M+ traces and identified 20k+ issues since launch in May 2026. The company reports more than 7,000 active LangSmith customers, including 5 of the Fortune 10 and approximately 35% of the Fortune 500. PitchBook estimates that LangChain employs approximately 140 people. The company has not disclosed a revenue figure.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	In October 2025, LangChain released LangChain 1.0 and LangGraph 1.0 alongside its Series B financing. In 2026, the company expanded LangSmith through Engine, Fleet, secure Sandboxes, SmithDB, Context Hub, an LLM Gateway, managed Deep Agents and additional enterprise governance capabilities. Customer deployments have also broadened, with Toyota using LangChain products to reduce the time required to deploy a new agent from six months with six engineers to four days with one engineer, while Lyft reduced agent-development cycles from approximately six months to several weeks.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	No major M&A activity.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include IVP, Sequoia Capital, Benchmark, Amplify Partners, CapitalG, Sapphire Ventures, ServiceNow Ventures, Workday Ventures, Cisco Investments, Datadog, and Databricks Ventures. LangChain is Series B-stage and has raised approximately $160M to date.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In October 2025, LangChain raised $125M at a $1.25B valuation in a Series B led by IVP.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: LINEAR

COMPANY NAME	Linear
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Business / Product Software Development
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to Fortune Business Insights, the global application development software market was valued at $138B in 2025 and is projected to reach $826B by 2034. The company's focus is on increasing customer size to Fortune 100 companies.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Linear is headquartered in San Francisco, California with an additional sales office in New York and an R&D center in Helsinki, Finland. The company serves customers from all around the world.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Atlassian (TEAM), Asana (ASAN), Monday.com (MNDY) PRIVATE: Notion, ClickUp, Height
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Key customers include OpenAI, Cursor, Scale AI, Perplexity, Ramp, Baseten, Harvey, Sierra, Salesforce, Figma, and more.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Linear provides a fast, minimalist platform tailored for software product and engineering teams, focusing on streamlined issue tracking, sprint cycles, and project management. Its core features include tools for managing tasks, organizing work into projects and cycles, visualizing roadmaps, and integrations with developers like GitHub, Figma, and Slack. This developer-first approach allows teams to collaborate in real time and automate workflows, without the complexity found with many incumbents. The introduction of Linear Agent enables teams to automate issue triage, workflow management, and routine project coordination through AI. Combined with Triage Intelligence, which helps automatically classify, prioritize, and route incoming issues, Linear Agent reduces manual overhead and embeds AI directly into day-to-day engineering operations.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: LOVABLE

COMPANY NAME	Lovable
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	AI Code Generation Software
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to Gartner, 90% of developers will use an AI coding assistant by 2028. Assuming perhaps 40 million developers globally today, that represents ~36 million addressable users, or $20/user/month, ~$9 billion annually (possibly higher assuming users purchase multiple tools).
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Lovable is headquartered in Stockholm, Sweden, with additional offices in London, Boston, and San Francisco. They serve a global customer base.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: GitLab Duo (GTLB), Microsoft GitHub Copilot (MSFT), Google Gemini Code Assistant (GOOG), SpaceX's Cursor (SPCX) PRIVATE: OpenAI (Codex), Anthropic (Claude Code)
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Key customers include Nvidia, Adidas, ElevenLabs, Workday, Klarna, HubSpot, PhotoRoom, and more.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Lovable is an AI-powered code generation platform that enables users to build, launch, and iterate on complete applications through natural language ("vibe coding"), expanding its addressable market beyond professional developers. Unlike AI coding assistants focused primarily on augmenting developers within an IDE, Lovable provides an end-to-end platform spanning application creation and deployment and, more recently, customer acquisition. The company introduced integrated growth tools for SEO, organic content, and advertising across Google, YouTube, Facebook, and Instagram, further extending its platform from building applications to helping users grow them. Lovable has established itself as one of the leading platforms in the space.

SIZE OF COMPANY	Lovable surpassed $600M in ARR in September 2026. Within its first year, Lovable reached employees at half of the Fortune 500, now, less than a year later, that figure has grown to two-thirds.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Lovable scaled from $10M ARR to $600M ARR in under 2 years. As of September 2026, Lovable-built apps attract nearly one billion views a month and over 60M projects have been created on the platform. The company stated that usage has accelerated to 1M new projects built a week as of June 2026.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Lovable acquired Sutro (the company behind the SLang programming language and platform) in September 2026, Version Lens (AI agent platform) in July 2026, and Molnett (cloud infrastructure provider) in November 2025.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: MIDJOURNEY

COMPANY NAME	Midjourney
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Generative AI / Image and Video Generation Platform
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Fortune Business Insights estimates the global AI image-generator market at $413M in 2025 and projects it to reach $1.75B by 2034, a 17.4% CAGR. Midjourney's expansion into video broadens its opportunity beyond this image-only market; as a wider benchmark, Gartner projects generative-AI model spending to grow from $14B in 2025 to $75B by 2029.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in San Francisco, with additional offices in London and New York and employees distributed globally.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Adobe (ADBE) and Alphabet/Google (GOOGL) PRIVATE: OpenAI, Canva/Leonardo.AI, Stability AI, Black Forest Labs, Runway, Kling AI, and Pika
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Customers: Individual creators, designers, artists, and small businesses. Suppliers: GPU providers.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Midjourney differentiates through strong photorealism and artistic image quality; our channel checks consistently rank it ahead of competing image models, particularly for ideation and concept work. Its original Discord-based workflow created a large creator community, while the expanding web product now supports direct image and video generation, editing, organization, personalization, and reference-based consistency. The June 2025 launch of V1 expanded Midjourney into image-to-video and toward longer-term 3D and real-time simulation ambitions. The main enterprise trade-off remains IP risk. Unlike Adobe Firefly's licensed-data approach and enterprise indemnification, Midjourney does not position its training data or outputs as commercially safe, limiting use in final production at risk-sensitive organizations.

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	David Holz (Founder and CEO), previously co-founder and CTO of Leap Motion and a researcher at NASA and the Max Planck Institute; Banu Guler (Chief Design Officer), Founder & CEO of Co-Star.
SIZE OF COMPANY	In June 2025, it was reported that Midjourney generated approximately $300M in 2024 revenue and had ~21M users as of September 2024; no more recent revenue or user update has been disclosed. Midjourney's website lists approximately 60 employees. We have not been able to connect with the executives at Midjourney but given this is a self-funded research lab they can pivot the strategy very quickly, we would imagine quicker than any of the competitors in the space.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Midjourney's revenue grew from ~$200M+ in 2023 to ~$300M in 2024. Midjourney's user growth grew from 1M within the first 6 months of release to ~21M registered users as of September 2024. Midjourney expanded into image-to-video in June 2025 and continues developing web, 3D, and real-time simulation capabilities.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In July 2026, Midjourney announced its first acquisition, Co–Star, a consumer astrology app. Co–Star's team joined Midjourney to help build a broader product and design organization and standalone consumer apps; founder Banu Guler joined as Chief Design Officer while continuing to lead Co–Star. Financial terms were not disclosed.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Self-funded with no outside investors.

SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Gartner's September 2026 forecast projects GenAI-model spending of $28.266B in 2026 and $51.620B in 2027, and total AI spending of $2.670T and $3.637T, respectively.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in Paris, France. Mistral AI serves more than 125 enterprise customers across approximately 20 countries. Mistral's Munich hub opened on September 28.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: AWS and Amazon Nova (AMZN), Google DeepMind and Gemini (GOOGL), Llama (META), Azure AI (MSFT), SpaceXAI (SPCX) PRIVATE: OpenAI, Anthropic, Cohere, DeepSeek
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	NVIDIA is Mistral AI's principal GPU supplier, technology partner and investor. Microsoft Azure, Amazon Web Services, Google Cloud and Oracle Cloud Infrastructure are distribution and infrastructure partners. In September 2026, Mistral partnered with Cloudera for model integration across air-gapped environments, and with Samsung to aid their AI-driven semiconductor manufacturing effort. Microsoft entered a multibillion-dollar agreement to use capacity from Mistral AI's French data centers and distribute Mistral AI models.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Mistral AI has established itself as the leading European alternative to American and Chinese open model providers. Its key differentiators include multilingual capabilities, customer control over models and data and the ability to deploy through public clouds, private infrastructure or Mistral AI's own European computing capacity. Mistral AI's Le Chat, which competes with ChatGPT, was released in February 2025 and reached more than 1M downloads within its first two weeks. On October 6, Mistral announced Large 4, its flagship 1T parameter multimodal MoE model with open-weight release scheduled for October 27. On October 15, the company launched Timestral, its first time-series forecasting model family.

SIZE OF COMPANY	Management reported approximately 1,000 employees. ARR surpassed approximately $400M in February 2026 and management expects ARR to reach $1B by the end of 2026.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Mistral AI reportedly ended 2024 with approximately €30M in ARR, reached roughly $400M in ARR by February 2026 and is targeting $1B in ARR by year-end 2026. Growth is being supported by enterprise and government adoption, geographic expansion in Asia and North America, model distribution through major cloud platforms and demand for European sovereign AI infrastructure. The company is looking to secure 200MW of European capacity by 2027, and plans to build up to 1 gigawatt of European computing capacity by 2030 and is investing in data centers in France and Sweden.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Mistral AI acquired French serverless cloud platform Koyeb in February 2026, adding infrastructure for deploying and scaling AI applications and supporting the expansion of Mistral Compute. In May 2026, Mistral AI acquired Austrian industrial AI startup Emmi AI, adding physics-simulation technology.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: MODAL

COMPANY NAME	Modal
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	AI Infrastructure / Serverless GPU Cloud, Production Inference, Model Training, Reinforcement Learning, Batch Processing & Agent Sandboxes
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	IDC reports that worldwide AI infrastructure spending will reach $497B in 2026 and $1.08T by 2029.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Modal is headquartered in New York City and maintains offices in San Francisco, Stockholm and London.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Microsoft (MSFT), Amazon (AMZN), Alphabet (GOOG), Oracle (ORCL), Cloudflare (NET) and CoreWeave (CRWV). PRIVATE: Runpod, Lambda, Together AI, Fireworks AI, Baseten, Nscale and Fly.io.
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Modal sources CPU and GPU capacity from a diversified network of 20+ cloud providers. Key customers include Cognition, DoorDash, TypeSafe, Ramp, Decagon, Applied Compute, Physical Intelligence, Suno, Quora, Substack, Lovable, Reducto, Chai Discovery and Meta.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Modal provides serverless infrastructure for AI workloads through a code-first platform that allows developers to define applications, dependencies, storage and hardware directly in Python. The company built its own container runtime, scheduler, image builder and distributed file system, enabling sub-second cold starts and autoscaling from zero to thousands of containers or more than 1,000 GPUs. Modal supports inference, fine-tuning, reinforcement learning, batch processing, notebooks, web endpoints and secure execution of model-generated code within a common platform. Modal differentiates from traditional GPU clouds by charging for active compute rather than requiring customers to reserve servers that may remain idle. Its Sandboxes product provides isolated environments for coding agents, reinforcement-learning rollouts and applications that execute untrusted or model-generated code. Modal has launched nearly 3B Sandboxes and the product contributes $300M in run rate, positioning the business beyond basic GPU rental and production inference.

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Modal was founded by Erik Bernhardsson and Akshat Bubna. Bernhardsson serves as CEO and previously built recommendation infrastructure at Spotify. Bubna serves as CTO and previously worked as an engineer at Scale AI.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Modal surpassed $1B in annualized revenue as of October 2026. Modal reported more than 200 employees in October 2026.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Modal increased annualized revenue approximately 5x from $60M in September 2025 to more than $300M in May 2026, and grew to $1B in October 2026. The company expanded its infrastructure network from five cloud providers in 2025 to 13 by May 2026 and 20+ by October as GPU capacity became more constrained. Usage has tripled since the May Series C, and the business has grown over 15x yoy. On October 19, the company announced plans to support Nvidia Vera CPUs for Sandboxes. Modal is also broadening its platform across multi-node training, post-training, reinforcement learning, managed model endpoints and high-scale agent execution.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Modal acquired Butter, an AI sandbox startup, in April 2026.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include General Catalyst, Redpoint Ventures, Lux Capital, Amplify Partners, Menlo Ventures, Bain Capital Ventures, Kleiner Perkins, Accel and Definition Capital. Modal is Series D-stage and has raised more than $1.2B to date.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In October 2026, Modal raised a $750M Series D at a $15.75B post-money valuation. This follows a $355M Series C at a $4.65B post-money valuation in May 2026.

COMPANY NAME	Notion
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Productivity & Collaboration Software / Knowledge Management Platform
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to IDC, the worldwide Project and Portfolio Management (PPM) software market was valued at $8.6 billion in 2025 and is projected to reach $13.6 billion by 2029, though Notion also participates in adjacent knowledge management and collaboration markets.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Notion is headquartered in San Francisco, with additional offices in New York, Dublin, Seoul, Hyderabad, Tokyo, and Sydney.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Monday.com (MNDY), Asana (ASAN), Atlassian Trello (TEAM), Adobe Workfront (ADBE) and Microsoft Planner (MSFT) PRIVATE: Smartsheet, Airtable, ClickUp, Coda, Slab and Wrike
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Customers: OpenAI, Toyota, Ramp, NVIDIA, Clay, Cursor, Figma, Volvo, Faire, Parloa, Cohere, Pinecone, Deel, Match Group
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Notion's competitive positioning centers on its all-in-one, modular workspace that combines note-taking, project management, and databases into a highly customizable platform. It stands out with strong product-led growth and a global user base (80% international). By consolidating collaboration tools and integrating AI features, Notion appeals to users and teams looking to simplify and streamline their tech stack.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2013
WEBSITE	notion.so
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Ivan Zhao (Co-founder & CEO), previously Product Design Lead at Inkling; and Rama Katkar (CFO) previously built Instacart's first Strategic Finance / FP&A team. Akshay Kothari was another Co-founder.
SIZE OF COMPANY	According to Forbes, Notion passed $600 million in ARR in late 2025, half of which was coming from its artificial intelligence products. In a September 2025 interview with CNBC, Notion said it had passed $500 million in annualized revenue. According to a 2024 Fast Company article, Notion had 600 employees as of January 2024.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Notion passed 100 million users in September 2024 up from just 1 million users in 2020. Notion has grown ARR from $30M at the time of its Series C to $600M+ today.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In July 2026, Notion acquired ZeroEntropy to enhance unified search and reduce inference costs. In January 2026, it acquired Embra, a graph-context engine and AI workspace tool. Earlier acquisitions include Campsite (December 2024), a team communication and design collaboration platform; Skiff (February 2024), a privacy-focused productivity platform; Flowdash (July 2022), a task-management platform; Cron (June 2022), a calendar application; and Automate.io (September 2021), a workflow automation platform.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors over the last two funding rounds include Coatue Management, Sequoia Capital, Index Ventures and GIC.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: N8N

COMPANY NAME	N8n
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	AI Tools / Workflow Automation, AI Orchestration, Agentic AI, Integration Platform as a Service (iPaaS) & Low-Code/No-Code Development
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Research and Markets estimates that the global iPaaS market will grow from approximately $8B in 2025 to $59.9B by 2034, representing a 25.1% CAGR. N8n's addressable opportunity is expanding beyond conventional application integration as enterprises use its platform to orchestrate AI agents and connect models with operational systems and proprietary data.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	N8n is headquartered in Berlin and operates with a distributed global workforce serving developers, startups and large enterprises globally.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Microsoft (MSFT), Salesforce (CRM), ServiceNow (NOW), SAP (SAP), UiPath (PATH), Pegasystems (PEGA), IBM (IBM) and Oracle (ORCL). PRIVATE: Zapier, Make, Workato, Boomi, Tray.ai, Camunda and Tines.
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	ZoomInfo announced native integration with N8n in October 2026. Publicly referenced customers include Vodafone, Delivery Hero and Mercedes-Benz. The partnership with SAP will embed N8n within Joule Studio, extending its potential distribution into SAP's enterprise customer base and allowing users to connect SAP systems with third-party applications and AI models.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	N8n combines a visual workflow canvas with JavaScript, Python, APIs and self-hosted deployment options, allowing technical users to move between no-code, low-code and pro-code development. N8n supports branching logic, human approvals, multi-agent systems, retrieval-augmented generation and long-running auditable business workflows. N8n positions itself between fully autonomous agent platforms and deterministic workflow tools, allowing customers to determine which decisions are delegated to models.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2019
WEBSITE	n8n.io
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	N8n was founded by Jan Oberhauser, who serves as Chief Executive Officer.
SIZE OF COMPANY	N8n serves more than 1,400 enterprise customers and supports a community of approximately 1.7M monthly active developers and builders. PitchBook estimates that N8n employs approximately 1,100 people. The company crossed €100 million in ARR in May 2026 (up from $40M in 2025) following a strategic investment from SAP.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	N8n's growth has been supported by its 1.7M-member builder community, expansion to more than 1,400 enterprise customers and rising demand for AI-agent orchestration. The company reported 6x user growth and 10x revenue growth in October 2025 YTD. The SAP partnership provides an additional distribution channel through Joule Studio and creates opportunities to embed N8n within mission-critical SAP workflows. The company announced Gemini 4 Argon support for N8n Agents in October 2026.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In May 2026, SAP made a strategic investment in N8n and entered a multiyear commercial agreement to integrate N8n natively into Joule Studio within SAP Business AI Platform. The integration is intended to give SAP customers a visual orchestration layer for creating governed AI agents and connecting SAP applications with external tools, databases and models.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include SAP, Accel, Meritech Capital Partners, Redpoint Ventures, NVentures, T.Capital, Sequoia Capital, Felicis Ventures, Highland Europe, HV Capital, Evantic Capital and Visionaries Club. N8n is Series C-stage and has raised approximately $240M to date.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In May 2026, SAP made a strategic investment that valued N8n at approximately $5.2B, more than double its prior valuation of $2.5B following a $180M Series C in October 2025.
VALUATION APPROACHES / METHODOLOGIES USED IN THE SECTOR	Target EV/S (or for scaled, profitable firms, EV/FCF) multiples, based on a comparable peer group average/median.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: OPENAI

COMPANY NAME	OpenAI
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Technology / Software / AI Model Provider
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Gartner forecasts spending on generative AI models will reach $76B by 2029, representing a 66.8% CAGR, while broader worldwide AI spending is projected to reach $4.7T by 2029.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	OpenAI has not disclosed the geographic mix of revs and users, but with over 1.2 billion weekly active ChatGPT users, this implies a material mix of non-US users.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Google, Meta, Z.AI, SpaceX, MiniMax, Alibaba. PRIVATE: Anthropic, Mistral, Cohere, DeepSeek and Moonshot.
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Microsoft Azure, AWS and Nvidia.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	The growth of ChatGPT to over 1.2 billion users in <4 years makes ChatGPT one of the fastest-growing consumer tech products ever. OpenAI was first to market, the company has attracted some of the best AI researchers in the world and benefits from its Microsoft partnership. UBS Evidence Lab surveys have suggested that for enterprise customers, OpenAI remains one of the top model providers for AI applications. After OpenAI CEO Sam Altman himself acknowledged in July "we did not have our best last 12 months ever", OpenAI released its latest model GPT-6 Astra in early September, which is a step-change improvement in computer use and agentic coding and recaptured the frontier on several key benchmarks.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	Founded in 2015 as an AI research firm, by founders including Sam Altman and Elon Musk.
WEBSITE	openai.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	CEO Sam Altman, CFO Sarah Friar, President Greg Brockman
SIZE OF COMPANY	$50 billion in annualized revenue as of the end of September 2026.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	OpenAI's annualized revenue run-rate has more than doubled YTD, with the company ending September at a $50 billion run rate compared to $21.4 billion ending 2025. A key driver of this annualized revs growth was an inflection in frontier model performance for agentic coding starting in November 2025 as well as much-improved computer use capabilities. That said, while these results are extraordinary, the WSJ reported in mid-August that OpenAI delivered $6.7 billion in 2Q26 revenue, which was +18% sequentially and a deceleration relative to 1Q26. This result was disappointing to investors that were hoping for more of an inflection as OpenAI's more capable models diffused throughout the economy. Bloomberg reported in October that OpenAI is expecting to reach or exceed $70 billion in annualized revs by the end of the year, materially above the $50 billion exiting September and $40 billion the company disclosed exiting July.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Glass Imagine (Sept 2026), NextSlide (Aug 2026), Ona (June 2026), Tomoro (May 2026), Hiro Finance (Apr 2026), TBPN (Apr 2026), Astral (Mar 2026), Promptfoo (Mar 2026), Crixet (Jan 2026), Torch (Jan 2026), Neptune (Dec 2025), io (May 2025, for $6.5 billion), Software Applications Incorporated (Oct 2025), Roi (Oct 2025), Statsig (Sept 2025), Alex (Sept 2025), Crossing Minds (June 2025), Context.ai (Apr 2025), Multi (June 2024), Rockset (June 2024) and Global Illumination (Aug 2023).
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Investors include SoftBank, a16z, D.E. Shaw Ventures, MGX, TPG, Altimeter, Blackstone, Coatue, Sequoia Capital and Winslow Capital.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	OpenAI raised $122 billion in March 2026 at a $852 billion post-money valuation. Reuters reported in mid-October that OpenAI is approaching investors and seeking approximately $30 billion in additional funding at a valuation of more than $1.4 trillion.
VALUATION APPROACHES / METHODOLOGIES USED IN THE SECTOR	Target EV/S (or for scaled, profitable firms, EV/FCF) multiples, based on a comparable peer group average/median.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: OPENEVIDENCE

COMPANY NAME	OpenEvidence
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	AI-Powered Clinical Decision Support and Medical Search
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Fortune Business Insights estimates the global generative AI in healthcare market will grow from $3.7B in 2026 to $31.5B by 2034, representing a 30.5% CAGR. The broader AI in healthcare market, including clinical decision support, diagnostics, workflow automation, and other applications, is estimated at $56.0B in 2026.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	OpenEvidence is headquartered in Miami and primarily serves verified US healthcare professionals. The platform is used across more than 10,000 hospitals and medical centers nationwide.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Wolters Kluwer (WTKWY) UpToDate, Relx (RELX) ClinicalKey AI PRIVATE: EBSCO/DynaMed, Glass Health, AMBOSS, Dr.Oracle, OpenAI, Anthropic
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Google Cloud is OpenEvidence's primary disclosed cloud and backend compute provider, while Vercel supports its frontend and application-delivery infrastructure and Zilliz Cloud provides vector-search infrastructure. Medical-content partners include NEJM, JAMA, Nature, NCCN, Cochrane, Wiley, and leading medical societies; the platform is used by more than 800,000 verified clinicians across over 10,000 hospitals and health systems
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	OpenEvidence offers an AI-powered medical search and clinical decision-support platform that helps physicians answer high-stakes questions at the point of care. The platform synthesizes peer-reviewed literature, clinical guidelines, and licensed publisher content into citation-linked responses, differentiating it from general-purpose assistants trained on broader internet data. Its multi-agent architecture routes questions across proprietary models specialized by clinical subspecialty, generating targeted answers with verifiable references. OpenEvidence has expanded beyond search through DeepConsult and tools supporting patient handouts, telemedicine communications, and documentation. Its primary differentiation is distribution: the core product is free for verified US clinicians, enabling direct adoption without hospital procurement or enterprise implementation. Monetization comes primarily from pharmaceutical and healthcare advertising. Licensed relationships with leading journals and medical organizations provide a content advantage, while UpToDate, DynaMed, ClinicalKey, and Doximity benefit from institutional trust, existing distribution, and EHR integrations.

WEBSITE	openevidence.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	OpenEvidence was founded by Daniel Nadler (CEO) and Zachary Ziegler (CTO). previously founded Kensho, which was acquired by S&P Global, while Ziegler is a Harvard machine-learning researcher.
SIZE OF COMPANY	OpenEvidence has approximately 130 employees. The company disclosed it had surpassed $100M in ARR in January of 2026.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	OpenEvidence supported approximately 18M clinical consultations in December 2025, up from roughly 3M, per month one year earlier. Third party estimates place ARR at roughly $300M in July of 2026, up from $100M in January 2026.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	OpenEvidence acquired Amaro, a GV- and Greycroft-backed AI-native advertising company, in September 2025. The acquisition added advertising technology and talent intended to strengthen the monetization infrastructure supporting OpenEvidence's free-to-physician model.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include Thrive Capital, DST Global, Sequoia Capital, NVIDIA, and Coatue. OpenEvidence is Series D-stage and has raised ~$700M.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In January 2026, OpenEvidence raised $250M in a Series D at a $12B valuation, co-led by Thrive Capital and DST Global. This compares with a $6B valuation in October 2025. In July of 2026, The Information reported that OpenEvidence is seeking to raise $200M on a $20B valuation.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: PERPLEXITY

COMPANY NAME	Perplexity
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Technology / Software / AI Search
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Gartner's September 16, 2026 forecast projects $28.3B in GenAI-model spending and $29.2B in AI-agent/assistant spending in 2026, rising to $51.6B and $65.5B in 2027, respectively.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Perplexity is headquartered in San Francisco and serves consumers, developers, and enterprise customers globally.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Alphabet (GOOG), SpaceX (SPCX) and Meta Platforms (META) PRIVATE: OpenAI ChatGPT and Anthropic Claude
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Perplexity relies on a multi-model architecture that provides access to models from OpenAI, Anthropic, Google, SpaceXAI, and other providers, while also using its own Sonar models. AWS remains an important cloud provider, and Perplexity entered a reported three-year, $750M Microsoft cloud commitment to access multiple model families through Microsoft Foundry while maintaining its AWS relationship. Enterprise customers include Stripe, Snowflake, Databricks, Zoom, Bridgewater, HP, Vercel and Crusoe. In October 2026, Perplexity announced a partnership with Amex to provide business Skills to US Business Card Members with active Perplexity Enterprise subs, monetizing through Consumer Credits.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Perplexity claims to differentiate from Google Search by creating more comprehensive answers, retrieving information from the most relevant sources, and disclosing the sources used in its responses. Perplexity also seeks to reduce latency through efficient search and retrieval. While the company uses some proprietary models, it primarily relies on third-party LLMs. The company has expanded beyond answer-based search through the Comet browser, Sonar APIs, premium enterprise products, and Perplexity Computer, an agentic product that coordinates multiple models and applications to execute complex tasks. This broadens Perplexity from an AI-search engine into a consumer, enterprise, and developer platform.

Perplexity reported more than 100M MAUs across its search and agent products and tens of thousands of enterprise customers as of April 2026. The company's core search engine processed approximately 780M queries in May 2025.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Perplexity's ARR increased from approximately $35M in mid-2024 to more than $150M in August 2025, approached $200M by September 2025, surpassed $450M in March 2026 (~50% growth in one month), and The Information reported it exceeds $750M as of August 2026. Growth is being supported by the Comet browser, Sonar APIs, Enterprise Pro and Enterprise Max subscriptions, premium data integrations and the company's expansion into agentic task execution. Their Photon retrieval engine lowers estimated model+search costs by 68% across six benchmarks as of September 2026 testing.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Perplexity acquired Spellwise in 2023, Carbon in 2024, and Read.cv in 2025. Perplexity acquired the Visual Electric team to supplement their Agent Experiences group in October 2025.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include SoftBank Vision Fund 2, NVIDIA, Jeff Bezos, IVP, Accel, New Enterprise Associates, Bessemer Venture Partners, Databricks Ventures, Salesforce Ventures, and Institutional Venture Partners. Perplexity is a late-stage private company, and Reuters reported that Perplexity plans to go public in 2028.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	Reuters reported in September 2025 that Perplexity raised $200 million at a $20 billion valuation. On August 23, 2026, Reuters reported that NVIDIA is considering an equity investment in Perplexity that would value the company at over $30 billion.

KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Postman's disclosed AI relationships include Microsoft, Anthropic through Amazon Bedrock, and other model providers. Postman is used by 98% of the F500, with Fern customers including Square, Auth0, Adobe, and Twilio.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Postman offers an integrated platform for designing, developing, testing, documenting, monitoring, governing, and distributing APIs. It has expanded beyond its original API client into a full lifecycle platform spanning collaborative workspaces, specifications, mock servers, automated testing, monitoring, API catalogs, private API networks, governance tools, and SDK generation. Postman supports HTTP, GraphQL, gRPC, WebSocket, MQTT, and MCP, enabling management of APIs used by traditional applications and AI agents. Postman AI adds natural-language development, automated test generation, documentation, and Agent Mode, while AI Agent Builder enables teams to assemble agentic applications using APIs as tools. Its principal differentiation is a large developer community and bottom-up distribution that can convert into enterprise collaboration and governance contracts. Pricing spans free, Solo, Team, and Enterprise plans, with additional usage-based AI charges.

WEBSITE	postman.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Postman was founded in Bangalore by Abhinav Asthana (CEO), Ankit Sobti (CTO), and Abhijit Kane (Head of Product). The product originated as a Chrome extension created to simplify API testing before developing into a collaborative enterprise platform.
SIZE OF COMPANY	The company has disclosed more than 40M developers and 500,000 customers. Third-party estimates place annual revenue at approximately $300M as of October 2024, but Postman has never publicly disclosed revenues.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Adoption has expanded to more than 40M developers in 2026 from approximately 30M in 2024.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Postman acquired liblab in November 2025 to add automated SDK and MCP generation, followed by Fern in January 2026 to expand API documentation and production-ready SDK capabilities.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include Insight Partners, Coatue, CRV, Nexus Venture Partners, Battery Ventures, and BOND. Postman is Series D-stage and has raised approximately $433M.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In August 2021, Postman raised $225M in a Series D at a $5.6B post-money valuation, led by Insight Partners. More recent secondary-market estimates imply a valuation ~40% below the 2021 financing, although Postman has not announced a subsequent priced equity round.
VALUATION APPROACHES / METHODOLOGIES USED IN THE SECTOR	Target EV/S (or for scaled, profitable firms, EV/FCF) multiples, based on a comparable peer group average/median.

COMPANY NAME	Proofpoint
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Cybersecurity / Email Security, Data Security & Data Loss Prevention (DLP), DSPM, Human Risk & AI Security
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Proofpoint operates across email security, DLP, Human Risk Management, Digital Communications Governance, DSPM, and AI security. Based on Gartner forecasts, the company's existing core markets are expected to reach ~$10B by 2030. The pending acquisition of Varonis expands the addressable opportunity further into data security, access governance, and AI security, with Varonis targeting an additional $10B+ market opportunity.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in Sunnyvale, CA
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED:Microsoft (MSFT), Palo Alto Networks (PANW), Check Point Software (CHKP), Zscaler (ZS), Netskope (NTSK) PRIVATE:Abnormal, Mimecast, Sublime, Cyera, BigID, OneTrust, ConcentricAI
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Proofpoint highlights customer deployments with Accenture, SoftBank, and Wyndham Hotels & Resorts,alongside others.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Proofpoint is a human-, data-, and AI-centric security platform spanning email security, DLP, Human Risk Management, DSPM, and AI security. The pending acquisition of Varonis expands its data security capabilities across sensitive-data discovery, access governance, and permissions, complementing Proofpoint's existing strengths in protecting users, communications, and data. We interviewed the company during the UBS Annual Private AI, Software, and Internet Conference- see here for the full interview.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2002
WEBSITE	proofpoint.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Sumit Dhawan serves as CEO, having joined from VMware where he served as President and helped lead a business generating more than $13B in annual revenue. Rémi Thomas serves as CFO and previously held the CFO role at Extreme Networks. Recent executive additions include Joyce Kim (Chief Marketing Officer), formerly CMO of Zscaler.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Proofpoint exited FY25 with $2.45B in ARR and currently serves more than 14,000 large enterprises and millions of organizations globally, including more than 80 of the Fortune 100. Varonis reached $726M of SaaS ARR in Q2 2026. Following the pending Varonis acquisition, the combined company would serve more than 16,000 enterprises and millions of organizations globally.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Proofpoint exited FY25 with $2.45B ARR and has continued to generate double-digit ARR and revenue growth. Growth is being supported by expansion across email security, data protection, Human Risk Management, and AI security, alongside M&A-driven expansion into adjacent markets. The pending Varonis acquisition would add a rapidly growing data security business that reached $726M of SaaS ARR in Q2 2026, up 52% YoY.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In October 2026, Proofpoint agreed to acquire Varonis for ~$6.3B, which would significantly expand its data and AI security capabilities across DSPM, data access governance, and sensitive-data protection; the transaction is expected to close in 1H27. Earlier acquisitions include Acuvity (2026), Hornetsecurity and Nuclei (2025), Normalyze (2024), and Tessian (2023), expanding Proofpoint across AI security, Microsoft 365 security, communications governance, DSPM, and Human Risk Management.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: QLIK

COMPANY NAME	Qlik
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Business Intelligence and Analytics
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	IDC previously sized select data management markets, including middleware, MDM, integration middleware, and data integration and intelligence software, at $63B by 2027 for Informatica, which we view as a close peer. Qlik also addresses BI, analytics, data quality, and AI-agent workflows.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Qlik is headquartered in King of Prussia, Pennsylvania and serves more than 40,000 customers globally. Qlik does not disclose geographic revs mix but has a material international presence.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Microsoft (MSFT) Power BI, Salesforce (CRM) Tableau, SAP (SAP), Oracle (ORCL), Snowflake (SNOW) PRIVATE: Databricks, Fivetran, Reltio, Alation, Matillion, Collibra, Sigma Computing
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Microsoft Azure, AWS, Google Cloud, Snowflake, Databricks, and SAP are important infrastructure and ecosystem partners. Qlik serves more than 40,000 customers and approximately 75% of the F500. Recent disclosed customer references include UPS, Ingersoll Rand, and Siemens.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Qlik offers an integrated platform spanning data integration, data quality, analytics, automation, and AI. Its associative analytics engine allows users to explore relationships across data rather than follow predefined query paths, while the Talend acquisition expanded Qlik into data transformation, quality, and governance. Qlik Cloud now combines structured analytics and unstructured content through Qlik Answers, with agentic capabilities including Discovery, Predict, Automate, and Analytics Agents. Its MCP Server also enables third-party assistants such as Claude to access governed Qlik data and analytical tools. The Upsolver acquisition added real-time ingestion and Apache Iceberg optimization, strengthening Qlik's position in open lakehouse architectures. Qlik remains differentiated by cloud agnosticism, an end-to-end data platform, and a large installed enterprise base. However, it continues to face pricing and implementation-complexity concerns, while Power BI and Tableau benefit from Microsoft and Salesforce distribution. Qlik also competes with focused data integration and governance vendors that can be easier to deploy for individual workloads.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	1993
WEBSITE	qlik.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Qlik was founded by Björn Berg and Staffan Gestrelius. Saugata Saha became President and CEO July 31, 2026, succeeding Mike Capone. Dennis Johnson serves as CFO.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Qlik has approximately 4,000 employees. Media reports indicated the company was approaching $1.5B in annual sales in 2024.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Qlik was approaching $1.5B in sales in late 2024, with software subscription bookings growing approximately 30% Y/Y, and continued expanding into cloud, data integration, and AI. The company has not disclosed a newer ARR figure.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Qlik acquired Upsolver in January 2025, adding real-time streaming and Apache Iceberg optimization. This followed the 2023 Talend transaction and 2024 acquisition of Kyndi's search and generative AI capabilities.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Thoma Bravo remains Qlik's majority shareholder. ADIA acquired a significant minority stake alongside additional institutional investors.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	The ADIA-led transaction closed in May 2025 and valued Qlik at approximately $10B, with ADIA reportedly investing roughly $1B.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: REDIS

COMPANY NAME	Redis
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Data Software / NoSQL Operational Database for in-memory/'caching' (also referred to as key-value store) along with document and vector databases.
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to Gartner, the key-value database market is expected to reach $26 billion by 2029, growth at a 21% CAGR.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Redis is headquartered in San Francisco, CA with offices in Texas, Europe and Asia.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Microsoft Azure (MSFT), Google Cloud (GOOGL), Amazon AWS (AMZN), and MongoDB (MDB) PRIVATE: Couchbase (which also offers in-memory, caching related functionality) and DataStax
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Redis Cloud is available on all three major cloud service providers. Key customers include Adobe, IBM, Mercedes Benz, Uber, and Capital One.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Redis offers a fully managed, in-memory Cloud database (Redis Cloud) providing commercial support for its popular, open-source Redis software, which took off as the primary technology for caching related use cases, along with a self-managed offering (Redis Software) and Community Edition version. Redis changed its licensing in Mar 2024 (similar to the moves MongoDB, Elastic and Confluent have made in the past), requiring the hyperscalers hosting Redis to enter into a commercial agreement with the company. In Aug 2023, Redis launched its vector database offering which caters to vector similarity search and RAG-related use cases, and in Apr 2025, the company released LangCache for LLM response caching. In response to growing agent adoption, Redis introduced Iris in May 2026, a composition of five separate tools designed to deliver agentic context and preserve both short- and long-term memory, aiding LLM call efficiency. Redis was cited as the fourth most favored database tool in the 2026 Stack Overflow developer survey.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2011
WEBSITE	redis.io
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	CEO Rowan Trollope joined Redis in February 2023, after serving as CEO for four and a half years at contact center software provider Five9, which Trollope took public. CFO Tony Tiscornia joined Redis in 2024 after serving as CFO of Coupa Software.
SIZE OF COMPANY	In Jan 2026, Redis crossed $300 million ARR, citing increased demand from AI, along with 12,000 total customers and 50+ customers spending over $1 million annually. In July 2026, the company completed a 200-employee RIF as it pivoted to smaller, streamlined teams partially in response to AI-assisted development while also winding down less successful workstreams.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	The $300 million ARR disclosure is up from $200 million in early 2024, a roughly 20% 2-year CAGR. In the January 2026 announcement, Redis's CEO expected a continued growth acceleration driven by corporate AI adoption.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Redis acquired Featureform in Oct 2025 to improve structured data delivery frameworks to AI agents and Decodable in Sep 2025 to improve real-time data access. Redis acquired data storage engine Speedb (which leverages advancements in SSD storage and transfer rates) in March 2024, expanding its data platform capabilities across caching, real-time and generative AI use cases, moving Redis beyond its historical in-memory/DRAM approach.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include Tiger Global, SoftBank, TCV, Bain Capital Ventures, Francisco Partners, Goldman Sachs, Viloa Ventures and Dell Technologies Capital.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In April 2021, Redis announced a $110m Series G funding round (~$350m raised to date) which valued the company at over $2 billion.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: REFLECTION

COMPANY NAME	Reflection AI
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Open-Weight Frontier AI Models
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Research and Markets estimates the global open-source AI model market will grow from $23.1B in 2026 to $50.0B by 2030, representing a 21.3% CAGR. The market includes open-source and open-weight models, enterprise customization, developer frameworks, and deployment across cloud, on-premise, edge, and sovereign AI environments.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Reflection AI is headquartered in New York and serves enterprises, developers, and governments internationally.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Alphabet (GOOG) Gemini, Meta (META) Llama, Microsoft (MSFT), Amazon (AMZN), Nvidia, (NVDA) Nemotron, SpaceXAI (SPCX) Grok PRIVATE: Anthropic, OpenAI, Mistral AI, Cohere, DeepSeek, Cognition
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	SpaceX is Reflection's largest disclosed compute provider. NVIDIA is both an investor and chip supplier. Customer and strategic relationships include the US Department of Energy, US National Laboratories, and South Korea's Shinsegae.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Reflection AI is building open-weight frontier models, software-development agents, and infrastructure that allow enterprises and governments to deploy AI on their own terms. Its initial product, Asimov, analyzes source code, documentation, emails, Slack messages, and project updates to create an organizational memory layer for understanding complex codebases and prior technical decisions. Reflection has since expanded toward a full open AI stack comprising frontier models, deployment software, customization tools, AI factories, and vertical solutions. The company plans to release model weights, allowing customers to inspect, customize, self-host, and govern models without relying on closed APIs from OpenAI, Anthropic, or Google. This is particularly relevant for governments and regulated enterprises seeking sovereign control over models, data, and infrastructure. Reflection's founders bring deep reinforcement-learning experience from Google DeepMind, including work on Gemini, AlphaGo, AlphaZero, and MuZero. Its differentiation is the combination of frontier-model ambitions, open weights, enterprise infrastructure, and sovereign AI partnerships. However, commercialization remains early, and the company must release competitive models and monetize open technology through hosting, customization, infrastructure, and support.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2024
WEBSITE	reflection.ai
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Reflection AI was founded by Misha Laskin (CEO) and Ioannis Antonoglou (CTO), both former Google DeepMind researchers. Laskin led reward-modeling work for Gemini, while Antonoglou contributed to AlphaGo, AlphaZero, and MuZero.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Reflection AI has approximately 150 employees. The company remains in the early stages of revenue generation and has not publicly disclosed ARR, but third-party estimates place ARR around $20M.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Reflection's valuation increased from approximately $545M in March 2025 to $8B in October 2025 and was subsequently reported at $25B in 2026. Revenues are reportedly between $5M-20M.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Reflection signed a compute agreement worth up to $6.3B with SpaceX in June 2026, providing immediate access to NVIDIA GB300 systems for $150M per month beginning July 2026. The company also signed a $1B compute deal with Nebius.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include NVIDIA, Sequoia Capital, Lightspeed Venture Partners and 1789 Capital.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	Reflection secured a $25B pre-money valuation in a $2.5B May 2026 raise. This compares to an $8B valuation in October 2025.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: REPLIT

COMPANY NAME	Replit
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	DevOps Software / AI-Powered Software Development (also known as vibe-coding) tools
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to IDC, the DevSecOps tools market is expected to reach $16B by 2028, while internal analysis at GitLab places the TAM at $40B, although Replit also caters to citizen developers and web app hosting.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Replit is headquartered in Foster City, California. The company is using its most recent fundraise to support international expansion.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: To an extent, both DevOps software from GitLab (GTLB) and GitHub (MSFT) and autocoding tools including GitLab Duo, Microsoft GitHub Copilot, and Google Gemini Code Assistant (GOOGL) PRIVATE: Vercel, Lovable, Anthropic Claude Code, OpenAI Codex
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Replit's AI offerings include models supplied by OpenAI, Anthropic and Google. The company also signed a partnership and investment with Visa in May 2026. Key customers include Zillow, Databricks, Google, Duolingo, and Coinbase.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Relative to the traditional Software Development Lifecycle stack requiring various tools for each step, Replit delivers the entire process within a single platform that can be accessed via a browser tab. Both experienced developers and non-technical users can create a full-stack app with no additional tool downloads required, while within a project, multiple developers can collaborate on the code. From the customizable workspace editor, users can write, save, and publish code into functional apps, complete with back-end cloud and database services. Replit also offers AI-powered development tools through Agent, which can create an app from a natural language prompt in minutes, leveraging automated testing capabilities and issue detection. In August, the company launched Free Mode to enable users to start building and deploying apps more easily on the platform for just the cost of an OpenAI $20 monthly subscription.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2016
WEBSITE	replit.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Founder and CEO Amjad Masad, and Co-Founder and Design lead Haya Odeh
SIZE OF COMPANY	Replit cites over 500k professional users on the platform today with 'millions' of total users. The company expects to cross $1 billion ARR by the end of 2026. In an interview, Replit's CEO suggested that while margins have fluctuated significantly with new product releases, the company was close to profitability in 2025.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Assuming Replit reaches its $1 billion ARR figure, that would represent growth of 7x since it crossed $150 million in September 2025.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In September 2026, Replit acquired Atta, a data visualization tool to enable interactive charting natively in the platform. In September 2025, Replit acquired OpenInt, an integrated Platform as a Service for third-party service code generation.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include Georgian, Prysm, Amex Ventures, Google's AI Futures Fund, YC, Craft, a16z, and Coatue.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In Jan, Replit raised $400 million at a $9 billion valuation, up from $3 billion just six months prior.

COMPANY NAME	Runway
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Generative AI / Video Generation and Creative Platform
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Fortune Business Insights estimates the global AI video-generator market at $717M in 2025, reaching $3.35B by 2034 (19% CAGR). Runway's broader opportunity spans AI-enabled production, editing, advertising, entertainment, and world-model applications; Fortune Business Insights estimates the wider AI video market at $5.2B in 2025 and $66.7B by 2034.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	HQ in New York, offices in San Francisco, Seattle, London, Paris, and Tel Aviv.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Alphabet/Google (GOOGL) and Adobe (ADBE) PRIVATE: OpenAI, ByteDance/Seedance, Kling AI, Pika, Luma AI, Midjourney, and Higgsfield
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Customers: 90%+ of the Fortune 500, including Amazon, Microsoft, and Robinhood. Partners include Adobe, Lionsgate, AMC Networks, Netflix, and BBC Studios. Suppliers: NVIDIA GPUs.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Runway has evolved from a creator-focused video-gen tool into an enterprise AI media platform spanning generation, editing, workflows, APIs, and world models. Users may choose Runway over Adobe Firefly for AI generation while continuing to use Premiere Pro and After Effects for final editing and production, making Runway largely complementary to Adobe's last-mile tools. This relationship is reinforced by a multi-year partnership that makes Adobe Runway's preferred API creativity partner and brings Gen-4.5 into Firefly workflows. Enterprise differentiation includes integrated workflows, controllability, private assets, and protections against training on customer data. Model competition remains intense, with Kling, Seedance, and Google's Veo often viewed as competitive on output quality. Longer term, GWM-1 and NVIDIA Vera Rubin support expansion into real-time simulation, interactive avatars, and robotics.

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Sachin Nayyar, Founder, CEO, and Chairman, founded Saviynt in 2010 and continues to lead the company's strategy around cloud-native identity security, AI governance, and non-human identity management. Paul Zolfaghari serves as President and oversees company operations and corporate strategy. In 2026, Saviynt strengthened its executive team with the appointments of Pete Angstadt as Chief Commercial Officer and Brad Myers as Chief Customer Officer to support global expansion and enterprise adoption of its AI-era identity security platform.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Saviynt serves 600+ enterprise customers globally, including over 20% of F100 companies. In July 2026, the company surpassed $300M ARR, making it one of the largest private identity security vendors focused on IGA, PAM, and AI-era identity security.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Saviynt reported bookings growth of more than 80% while maintaining an industry-leading 96% retention rate in July 2026. Earlier disclosures showed contracted ARR exceeding $185M with 35%+ ARR growth, 45%+ bookings growth, and profitability. Growth has been driven by continued adoption of the company's cloud-native Identity Cloud platform and increasing demand to secure AI agents, non-human identities, and machine identities across enterprise environments.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	No major M&A activity identified in the reviewed sources.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Late-stage private company backed by KKR, Sixth Street Growth, TenEleven Ventures, and Carrick Capital Partners.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In Dec. 2025, Saviynt raised $700M in a Series B led by KKR, with participation from Sixth Street Growth, TenEleven Ventures, and Carrick Capital Partners, valuing the company at approximately $3B. In Aug./Sep. 2026, Carrick Capital Partners also closed a $600M continuation vehicle and committed $255M of new capital to Saviynt.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: SERVAL

COMPANY NAME	Serval
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Enterprise Software / AI-Native Enterprise Service Management
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Serval has not disclosed a company-specific TAM. Its opportunity spans ITSM, configuration and asset management, incident response, and enterprise workflow automation for F500 and G2000 organizations. As a reference point, competitor ServiceNow estimates a $39B core IT workflow market, a $110B multi-workflow market, and a $275B AI platform opportunity by 2028, based on its analysis of Gartner research.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in San Francisco.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: ServiceNow (NOW), Atlassian (TEAM) PRIVATE: N/A
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Customers: Notion, WPP, Fox, Ramp, Vercel, LiveNation, GitHub, GitLab, Lucid, SeatGeek, Dutch Bros, Brex, Baseten, Abridge, Cribl, Clau, Perplexity, Mercari, Temporal, Mercor. Suppliers/infrastructure: Anthropic, OpenAI, AWS, and Temporal.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Serval is an AI-native enterprise service-management platform targeting ServiceNow replacement across ITSM, CMDB, asset management, and incident response. Its enterprise-first strategy targets Fortune 500 and Global 2000 customers rather than moving upmarket from SMBs. Unlike AI assistants layered over incumbent systems, it targets full system-of-record replacement, while also supporting deployment alongside existing tools. Code-generation agents enable customizable workflows, differentiated by its proprietary agent harness and secure execution environment rather than foundation models. Complex incumbent AI implementations and costly upgrades of customized ServiceNow deployments create potential replacement opportunities. Pricing combines an organization-size-based platform fee with workflow consumption charges rather than tokens, without a legacy seat-based model to transition.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2024

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Jake Stauch (Co-founder and CEO) and Alex McLeod (Co-founder and CTO), both previously at Verkada.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Approximately 200 employees as of October 2026, with a target of ~1,000 by year-end 2027. Serval has also hired 20+ former ServiceNow employees. Current revenue, ARR, and total customer count are undisclosed.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Enterprise adoption has accelerated, with reported ServiceNow replacements at Lucid and GitLab, and an end-to-end migration underway at WPP. Expansion opportunities extend beyond IT into HR, finance, legal, security, and engineering. Revenue grew 500% from the August 2025 Series A close to the December 2025 Series B announcement, from an undisclosed base.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In October 2026, Serval acquired software supply-chain security startup Ensignia to strengthen security around its enterprise automation platform. Ensignia founder Sam Stewart joined as Head of Security. Financial terms were not disclosed. Jonathan Chadwick reportedly joined Serval's board after leaving ServiceNow's board.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Venture-backed private company; latest confirmed funding stage was Series B. Investors include Sequoia Capital, Redpoint, Meritech, First Round Capital, General Catalyst, Evantic, Sound Ventures, Radical Ventures, among others.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	Latest confirmed financing was a $75M Series B in December 2025, led by Sequoia Capital, at a $1B valuation, bringing total funding to $127M. It followed a $47M Series A announced in October 2025, led by Redpoint.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: SIERRA

COMPANY NAME	Sierra
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Technology / Software / Customer Support Agents
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Gartner's September 16, 2026 forecast projects AI agent/assistant spending of $29.2B in 2026 and $65.5B in 2027.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Based in the United States, with offices across North America, Europe and Asia.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Sierra competes directly with large public CRM software providers such as Salesforce (CRM), through Agentforce, Microsoft (MSFT), and ServiceNow (NOW), which are adding customer-experience agents to their application suites. PRIVATE: LivePerson and AI model providers if they launch dedicated AI agents for front-office use cases.
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Sierra announced OpenAI marketplace participation on September 29. Customers include Sonos, ADT, SiriusXM, and Casper. Sierra reports nearly 50% of the F50 (including 80% of F50 healthcare companies) and one in three of the leading banks as customers.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Sierra helps customers deploy AI agents, powered by large language models from OpenAI, Anthropic, and Meta, that can handle complex customer interactions at scale. The company claims to differentiate from competitors such as Salesforce Agentforce by offering agents that are more closely tailored to each customer's brand, voice and tone. While Sierra is a standalone customer-experience agent platform, Agentforce comes pre-integrated with Salesforce's broader suite and thus may appeal to customers standardized on Salesforce. Our enterprise checks have reflected growing sentiment that Sierra is an emerging alternative to Salesforce.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2023
WEBSITE	sierra.ai
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Sierra was co-founded by Bret Taylor, former Co-CEO of Salesforce and current Chairman of OpenAI, and Clay Bavor, who spent 18 years at Google.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Sierra disclosed $200m in ARR as of June 2026, two quarters after reaching $100m in ARR. More than 20% of customers generate over $10 billion in annual revenue, while more than half generate over $1 billion.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Sierra reached $200M in ARR as of June 2026, doubling from $100M just two quarters earlier and rising from more than $150M in February 2026. Growth has been supported by rapid enterprise adoption (including almost 50% of the Fortune 50), the expansion of voice agents, outcome-based pricing and deployments across financial services, healthcare, telecommunications, retail, and consumer services. Sierra also launched Horizon in July 2026, extending its platform beyond individual customer service interactions into agents that pursue complex objectives over days or months, such as originating loans and completing healthcare prior authorizations.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Sierra acquired Receptive AI in March 2025 to bolster their voice agent offering. Sierra has been active in the acquisition market in 2026, acquiring Opera Tech in March, Fragment in April and Takeoff in July.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Investors include Tiger Global Management, GV, Greenoaks Capital, Sequoia Capital, Benchmark, Thrive Capital, and ICONIQ Capital. Sierra is Series E-stage and has raised more than $1.6B across its disclosed funding rounds.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	Sierra raised $950M in a Series E in May 2026 at a post-money valuation exceeding $15B, with reporting placing the valuation at approximately $15.8B. The round was led by Tiger Global and GV, with participation from Benchmark, Sequoia, and Greenoaks.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: SSI

COMPANY NAME	SSI
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Frontier AI Research, Foundation Models, Artificial General Intelligence, Superintelligence, and Continual Learning.
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Gartner forecasts spending on generative AI models will reach $76B by 2029, representing a 66.8% CAGR, while broader worldwide AI spending is projected to reach $4.7T by 2029.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	SSI operates from Palo Alto, California and Tel Aviv, Israel.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Alphabet (GOOG), SpaceX (SPCX), and Meta Platforms (META). PRIVATE: OpenAI, Anthropic, Mistral, and Thinking Machines.
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Google Cloud initially served as SSI's primary computing provider, supplying Tensor Processing Units for frontier model research. In July 2026, SSI entered a strategic partnership with NVIDIA that provides access to NVIDIA's next-generation Vera Rubin platform.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	SSI is currently pre-product, with the unique goal of achieving safe superintelligence and continual learning before a consumer-facing launch. The company is solely focused on innovation using new research methods, arguing that future AI progress may require a shift from existing AI architectures. SSI's singular focus and operation in stealth allow the company to avoid interim product cycles and pursue long-duration research, while also preventing high technical, execution, and commercialization risk arising from the absence of public disclosures, research milestones and a planned monetization engine.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2024
WEBSITE	ssi.inc
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	SSI was founded by Ilya Sutskever, Daniel Gross, and Daniel Levy. Sutskever serves as CEO and previously co-founded OpenAI, where he served as Chief Scientist. Levy serves as President and previously worked as a researcher at OpenAI.
SIZE OF COMPANY	PitchBook estimates that SSI employs approximately 40 people.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	SSI remains a pre-revenue research lab and has not disclosed a product launch schedule, model benchmark, customer count, or revenue target. Its primary growth metrics are fundraising, technical hiring, research progress, and access to compute infrastructure. The company raised $1B in September 2024, added $2B in April 2025, and entered a strategic partnership with NVIDIA in July 2026 that included a reported $5B investment. The NVIDIA partnership is expected to increase SSI's compute capacity by an order of magnitude (~10x) within 12 months.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In July 2026, SSI entered a long-term strategic partnership with NVIDIA that combined a reported $5B equity investment with access to NVIDIA's Vera Rubin computing platform.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	SSI raised $1B in September 2024 from investors including NFDG, Andreessen Horowitz, Sequoia, DST Global, and SV Angel. It subsequently raised $2B in April 2025 in a round led by Greenoaks, with participation from Alphabet, NVIDIA, Andreessen Horowitz, Lightspeed, and DST Global. In July 2026, NVIDIA agreed to make a reported $5B equity investment as part of its strategic computing partnership with SSI.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	SSI raised $2B at a $32B post-money valuation in April 2025, representing a substantial increase from the ~$5B valuation associated with its September 2024 financing.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: SUPABASE

COMPANY NAME	Supabase
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Data Software / Postgres-based Operational Database
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to Gartner, the operational relational database market is expected to reach $81 billion by 2029 at a CAGR of 12%.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Supabase is headquartered in San Francisco with a globally distributed workforce.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: MongoDB (MDB) and database solutions from Microsoft Azure (MSFT), Amazon AWS (AMZN), and Google Cloud (GOOGL). PRIVATE: EDB, Couchbase, and open-source Postgres.
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Supabase's customer base skews towards tech-native firms, including Snap, 1password, Gopuff, and GitHub while also underpinning apps created on some vibe-coding platforms like Lovable.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Supabase bills itself as a "back-end as a service", going all-in on the relational Postgres architecture, making it a solid database choice for applications requiring structured and semi-structured data and complex queries. Supabase refers to itself as an alternative to Firebase, a Google database that is built on a NoSQL document-based database called Firestore. Supabase distinguishes itself by adding enterprise-grade features, free front-end open source tools, and a back-end database that can be used by developers to build web/mobile applications. To tackle scaling challenges with Postgres, Supabase is introducing Multigres with features including sharding, zero-downtime migrations, and high availability to enable larger users to scale beyond a single Postgres instance. Supabase is also catering to agent-led development via Supabase Agent Skills to teach agents Supabase programing skills.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2020
WEBSITE	supabase.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	CEO Paul Copplestone (previously founded Nimbus for Work and ServisHero) and CTO Ant Wilson.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Supabase counts over 250k customers. We estimate the company has reached ~$150 million in revenue.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	With agents increasingly acting autonomously to spin up databases, Supabase has seen the majority of its database creation pivot towards AI, now over 60% of launches (Databricks has noted 80% of its Lakebase databases are created by agents). As of its June fundraise, the company cited 600% y/y increase in databases with Claude Code as the largest contributor YTD. Nearly 10 million developers use Supabase today, up from 2 million in Apr 2025.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In Oct 2026, acquired Turso, a SQLite-based database vendor. In Feb 2026, acquired Hydra, a real-time Postgres-based analytics vendor. In Oct 2025, acquired Triplit for real-time data sync. In Apr 2024, acquired OrioleDB to improve Postgres storage engine performance.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Investors include GIC, Accel, Peak XV, Figma, Coatue, Y Combinator and Felicis, as well as OpenAI CPO Kevin Weil.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In June 2026, Supabase raised a $500 million Series F at a $10.5 billion valuation.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: THINKING MACHINES

COMPANY NAME	Thinking Machines
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Technology / Software / AI Model Provider and Post-Training Platform
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Gartner forecasts spending on generative AI models will reach $76B by 2029, representing a 66.8% CAGR, while broader worldwide AI spending is projected to reach $4.7T by 2029.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Thinking Machines Lab is headquartered in San Francisco and serves developers, researchers, startups and other organizations globally.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Alphabet (GOOG), SpaceX (SPCX),and Meta Platforms (META). PRIVATE: OpenAI, Anthropic, Mistral, Cohere and SSI.
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	NVIDIA is a strategic investor, hardware supplier and engineering partner. In March 2026, Thinking Machines Lab entered a multiyear partnership with NVIDIA to deploy at least 1 gigawatt of Vera Rubin systems, with deployment targeted to begin early 2027. The companies also plan to collaborate on training and serving systems optimized for NVIDIA architectures. Google Cloud is another major infrastructure supplier. In April 2026, Thinking Machines Lab entered a non-exclusive, multi-billion dollar Google Cloud agreement providing access to NVIDIA GB300 systems, Google Kubernetes Engine, Cloud Storage, Spanner, and related infrastructure for training, reinforcement learning and model serving. Crusoe is an important cloud vendor, and on September 23, 2026, Crusoe announced a $65M deal to power Thinking Machines' model inference on Crusoe Cloud.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	The company differentiates itself from closed frontier model providers by combining open-weight models with tools that allow developers and researchers to fine-tune model behavior for proprietary data, workflows, and applications. The company's first commercial product, Tinker, is a managed platform for fine-tuning open-weight models without requiring users to operate their own large GPU clusters. In July 2026, Thinking Machines Lab released Inkling, a 975B parameter mixture-of-experts model with 41B active parameters, native reasoning across text, images, and audio, and a context window of up to 1M tokens. The company subsequently released Inkling-Small, a 276B parameter model with 12B active parameters that targets comparable performance with substantially lower compute requirements.

WEBSITE	thinkingmachines.ai
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Thinking Machines was founded by Mira Murati, who currently serves as CEO and previously served as Chief Technology Officer of OpenAI. John Schulman, an OpenAI Co-Founder and a leading researcher in reinforcement learning from human feedback, serves as Chief Scientist.
SIZE OF COMPANY	TechCrunch reported Thinking Machines' annual revenue run rate is over $100 million, and PitchBook estimates that Thinking Machines employs approximately 200 people.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Thinking Machines Lab launched publicly in February 2025 and raised $2B at a $12B valuation in July 2025 while being pre-product. It introduced Tinker in October 2025 and made the platform generally available with vision-input support in December 2025. During 2026, the company expanded its research and product portfolio through its NVIDIA and Google Cloud infrastructure agreements, the launch of Inkling and Inkling-Small, and new research programs focused on model customization, human-AI interaction, safety, and reinforcement learning. Less than a year after launching its first product, Thinking Machines has already reached a $100 million annual revenue run-rate.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In April 2026, Thinking Machines acquired the team behind Workshop Labs, a privacy-first AI infrastructure platform for building personalized and secure AI models.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include Andreessen Horowitz, Nvidia, Accel and Conviction Partners.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	The company raised approximately $2B in its July 2025 seed financing, led by Andreessen Horowitz. NVIDIA subsequently made an additional strategic investment in March 2026. In September 2026, The Information reported that the company is in talks to raise ~$5-6B at a ~ $40B valuation.
VALUATION APPROACHES / METHODOLOGIES USED IN THE SECTOR	Target EV/S (or for scaled, profitable firms, EV/FCF) multiples, based on a comparable peer group average/median.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: THOUGHTSPOT

COMPANY NAME	ThoughtSpot
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Data Software / Data Analytics and Business Intelligence
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to Gartner, the Business Intelligence (BI) and analytics software market reached $13 billion in 2025.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	ThoughtSpot is headquartered in Mountain View, CA with offices globally.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Salesforce Tableau (CRM), Microsoft Power BI (MSFT), Google Looker (GOOGL) PRIVATE: Qlik (which acquired Talend) and Databricks
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Key customers include Capital One, HP, Nasdaq, Toyota, and Coca Cola.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	ThoughtSpot's AI-powered Analytics platform targets the BI market historically dominated by Salesforce's Tableau and Microsoft's Power BI through its intuitive natural language interface and modular/open platform approach enabling tight integrations to popular cloud data management platforms (Snowflake, Databricks, AWS Redshift, and Google BigQuery), with a UX designed for the common knowledge worker (not just data analyst). In March 2023, ThoughtSpot launched Sage, a Gen AI-enabled conversational analytics interface that enables natural language search across a customers' data by combining ThoughtSpot's patented natural language search technology with LLMs such as ChatGPT and Google Gemini. On the agentic side, Spotter, launched in November 2024, surfaces contextualized insights across business tools and more recently added semantic layers and industry-tailored options, while the AgentSpot offering released in Aug 2026 enables users to automate repeatable tasks.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: TOGETHER.AI

COMPANY NAME	Together AI
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	AI Infrastructure / GPU Cloud and Open-Model Inference
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Together AI addresses the AI infrastructure and open-source model markets. Fortune Business Insights estimates the global AI infrastructure market will grow from $75.4B in 2026 to $498.0B by 2034, while Research and Markets estimates the open-source AI model market will grow from $23.1B in 2026 to $50.0B by 2030.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Together AI is headquartered in San Francisco and serves developers, AI-native companies, and enterprises globally. The company has a US-centric operating base but is expanding its infrastructure internationally.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: CoreWeave (CRWV), Microsoft (MSFT) Azure, Alphabet (GOOG) GCP, Amazon (AMZN) AWS, Oracle (ORCL) Cloud Infrastructure, Nebius (NBIS) PRIVATE: Fireworks AI, Baseten, Replicate, Anyscale, Crusoe, Nscale
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	NVIDIA is Together AI's principal GPU supplier, strategic technology partner, and investor. Customers include Cognition, Decagon, ElevenLabs, Suno, Salesforce, and The Washington Post.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Together AI provides a full-stack AI cloud spanning GPU clusters, serverless and dedicated inference, model fine-tuning, managed storage, code sandboxes, and large-scale model training. The company differentiates from infrastructure-focused GPU clouds through its proprietary software and research layer, including FlashAttention-related research, Together Kernel Collection, optimized inference engines, quantization, and workload-specific CUDA kernels. These capabilities are designed to improve throughput and lower the cost of serving open-weight models such as DeepSeek, Nemotron, MiniMax, Kimi, and GLM. Together AI supports more than 200 open and custom models across text, code, image, audio, and vision workloads, with deployment through OpenAI-compatible APIs. The company's platform spans self-service inference and GPU clusters through dedicated AI factories scaling from thousands to more than 100,000 GPUs. Together AI competes directly with Fireworks AI and Baseten in inference, CoreWeave and Crusoe in GPU infrastructure, and closed-model APIs from OpenAI and Anthropic. Its principal differentiation is providing customers with greater model choice, customization, and potentially lower inference costs while avoiding dependence on a single closed-model provider.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: TURBOPUFFER

COMPANY NAME	Turbopuffer
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Data Software / Vector Databases, Full-Text Search, Hybrid Search, Retrieval Infrastructure & AI-Native Data Infrastructure
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Gartner forecasts the worldwide database-management systems market will reach $161B in 2026, with vector databases expected to be the fastest-growing segment at a 75.3% CAGR through 2029.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Turbopuffer is headquartered in Ottawa, Canada. On October 14, the company opened its NYC office.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Elastic (ESTC), MongoDB (MDB), Microsoft (MSFT), Amazon (AMZN), Alphabet (GOOG) and Oracle (ORCL) PRIVATE: Pinecone, Weaviate, Qdrant, Zilliz/Milvus, VAST Data, and ClickHouse
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	AWS, Google Cloud and Microsoft Azure are important infrastructure suppliers for storing indexes in cloud object-storage systems such as Amazon S3, Google Cloud Storage and Azure Blob Storage. The platform uses object storage as its durable data layer while dynamically loading frequently accessed information into SSD and memory caches for lower-latency search. Key customers include Anthropic, Atlassian, Cursor and Notion.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Turbopuffer provides vector, full-text and hybrid search through an architecture built directly on low-cost object storage rather than keeping complete search indexes continuously loaded in memory or local SSDs. The platform separates storage from compute and dynamically caches frequently accessed data, which can materially reduce costs for large, multi-tenant AI workloads where most indexed information is accessed infrequently. This design is particularly suited to retrieval-augmented generation, coding agents, enterprise knowledge search and applications that maintain separate searchable datasets for millions of users or organizations.

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Turbopuffer was founded by Simon Eskildsen and Justine Li, both former Shopify engineers. Eskildsen serves as Chief Executive Officer and Li serves as engineering leader.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Turbopuffer employs 22 people. In May 2026, CEO Simon Eskildsen stated that the company had crossed $100 million in ARR.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Turbopuffer reached $100 million ARR just 19 months after hitting the $1 million ARR milestone. Turbopuffer reported that sales increased approximately 10x during 2025, while headcount expanded approximately fivefold to 22 employees. Growth has been supported by AI-native customers indexing increasingly large codebases, document repositories, workspaces and enterprise datasets and by expansion from vector search into full-text and hybrid retrieval. The company's production footprint has reached more than 1T documents, 10M writes per second and 100k queries per second.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	No major M&A activity.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include Thrive Capital and Lachy Groom. Turbopuffer received an initial angel investment from Groom and completed an additional seed financing in December 2025 in which Thrive Capital joined as a new investor and Groom increased his investment. The company has raised less than $1 million to date.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: TYPESAFE

COMPANY NAME	TypeSafe
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	AI Models / Decision & Classification Models
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	TypeSafe AI addresses the generative AI model, intelligent automation, decision intelligence and AI infrastructure markets. Gartner forecasts spending on generative AI models will reach $76B by 2029, representing a 66.8% CAGR, while broader worldwide AI spending is projected to reach approximately $4.7T by 2029. The company addresses selected portions of these markets through high-volume classification, routing, scoring, verification and other decision workloads embedded in production software.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	The company is headquartered in San Francisco, with its Jev model being distributed via API.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Gemini (GOOG), AWS and Amazon Nova (AMZN), Meta Llama (META), Azure (MSFT) PRIVATE: OpenAI, Anthropic, Cohere, Mistral AI
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	TypeSafe brought on AWS as an early ecosystem partner in 2024. Vercel AI Gateway and Cloudflare Workers AI are key distribution partners.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	TypeSafe AI is positioned as a complement to rather than a complete replacement for general-purpose LLMs. Jev can make low-latency decisions inside a larger workflow while ambiguous or complex cases are escalated to a person or reasoning model. TypeSafe AI is developing what it calls "System One Models," a category of AI designed to make fast, structured decisions that software can consume directly. Unlike traditional LLMs that generate strings token by token, Jev evaluates multiple questions in parallel and returns constrained values, probabilities and confidence scores. The company's main source of differentiation lies in its speed and incredibly low inference cost. TypeSafe AI states that Jev can deliver results in less than 100 milliseconds and can be up to 100 times faster and less expensive than frontier models on decision-oriented workloads. Current pricing for Jev 1.13 is $0.042 per million input tokens, with no charge for output tokens. The company released Jev 1.14 in preview on October 14.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2024 in stealth (first product launched in 2026)

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Founded by Diogo Almeida, who currently serves as CEO. Almeida was previously at OpenAI where he was one of the core creators of ChatGPT and co-inventor of RLHF. Other founders are Erik Gafni (CTO) and Sasha Sheng (COO).
SIZE OF COMPANY	Pitchbook estimates that TypeSafe employs 30 people. The company has not reported a revenue figure. TypeSafe reported in October that one-third of the F500 uses Jev.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	TypeSafe AI emerged from stealth on September 15, 2026 and released Jev in early access. The company subsequently removed the waitlist and opened model access more broadly. Jev has already progressed through multiple versioned releases, with Jev 1.13 being the current model (Jev 1.14 is in preview). Jev 1.13 supports a standard rate limit of 100k tokens per second and 80 requests per second, with higher limits available through custom and enterprise plans. The current usage-based model creates potential expansion as customers embed Jev into higher-volume software workflows.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	No major M&A activity.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	TypeSafe AI is Series A stage and has raised $910M in disclosed funding.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	On September 15, TypeSafe announced a $40M seed round, valuing the company at $200M. Less than a month later on October 9, TypeSafe announced their $870M Series A financing, led by a16z with backing from Sequoia Capital, DCVC and other angel investors. The Series A round valued the company at $7.5B.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: UPWIND

COMPANY NAME	Upwind
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Cloud Security / Cloud-Native Application Protection Platform (CNAPP), Runtime Security & Cloud Detection and Response (CDR)
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Upwind operates within the broader cloud security market, including Cloud-Native Application Protection Platform (CNAPP), cloud workload protection, cloud infrastructure security, runtime security, API security, and AI security. Gartner projects cloud security spending to reach ~$38B by 2030, encompassing categories such as CSPM, CWPP, and CASB. Upwind is positioned to benefit from continued enterprise migration to public cloud environments and growing demand for platforms capable of securing dynamic cloud and AI workloads in real time.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Upwind is headquartered in San Francisco, CA, with offices in Israel, the United States, and the United Kingdom.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Palo Alto Networks (PANW), CrowdStrike (CRWD), Microsoft (MSFT), Datadog (DDOG), Fortinet (FTNT), Alphabet/Google (GOOG) PRIVATE: Orca Security, Sweet Security
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Public customer references include Siemens, Waste Management, Roku, Carvana, Agoda, Peloton, BILL, Check Point Software, Wix, and Nextdoor, highlighting Upwind's adoption across industrials, technology, financial technology, consumer, travel, and cybersecurity organizations.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Upwind is a runtime-first cloud security platform that helps organizations identify, prioritize, and remediate risks across cloud infrastructure, workloads, applications, APIs, identities, and AI environments. Unlike traditional CNAPP solutions that rely heavily on static or agentless scanning, Upwind leverages runtime telemetry and contextual data to focus security teams on actively exploitable risks and reduce alert fatigue. The platform spans CNAPP, cloud detection and response (CDR), vuln mngt, API security, identity security, and AI security.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: VANTA

COMPANY NAME	Vanta
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Trust Management / Governance, Risk & Compliance (GRC), Security Compliance Automation, Third-Party Risk Management
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Vanta's TAM is anchored in the security and compliance market which is being driven by the increasing regulatory requirements like SOC 2, HIPAA, and ISO standards across industries. Despite Vanta not defining their TAM, they have been recognized as leaders in the governance, risk, and compliance (GRC) space by both IDC and Gartner.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Vanta is headquartered in San Francisco, CA, with offices in New York, London, Dublin, and Sydney.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED:ServiceNow (NOW) PRIVATE:Optro, Diligent, LogicGate
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Public customer references include Atlassian, Snowflake, GitHub, Duolingo, Ramp, Samsara, Perplexity, Cursor, Intercom, and Sierra, alongside organizations such as Icelandair, the Golden State Warriors, Lovable, and Snyk.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Vanta positions itself as an automated trust management platform that transforms security reviews and compliance frameworks such as SOC 2, ISO 27001, HIPAA, PCI DSS, and GDPR. The company differentiates itself through an automation-first, developer-centric approach, integrating directly with modern cloud and engineering environments to automate evidence collection, security reviews, vendor risk management, and compliance workflows. Vanta's Trust Graph, built on more than 400 integrations, provides continuous visibility into controls, vendors, risks, and compliance obligations, while Vanta Agent helps automate compliance and risk management tasks.

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Christina Cacioppo serves as the CEO and Co-Founder of Vanta, with previous experience as product management lead at Dropbox In June 2026, Vanta appointed John McCauley as CFO. McCauley previously served as COO of Calendly, CFO of Seismic, and held finance leadership roles at ServiceNow, bringing significant experience scaling high-growth software companies.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Vanta surpassed $300M ARR in April 2026 and serves 16K+ customers globally (up from 14K in 2025). The company has become one of the largest private trust management platforms, with customers spanning startups, enterprises, and 60% of the Forbes AI 50.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Vanta reached $300M ARR just nine months after surpassing $200M ARR, and grew 63% y/y following a prior progression from $10M to $100M ARR in two years and from $100M to $200M ARR in 15 months. Management noted that growth accelerated in each of the four quarters leading up to April 2026. Growth has been supported by expansion beyond compliance automation into vendor risk management, AI risk management, security assurance, and trust management workflows, with increasing adoption of products such as Trust Graph and Vanta Agent.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In July 2025, Vanta acquired Riskey, a real-time third-party risk monitoring platform, to expand its Vendor Risk Management capabilities. Earlier, in January 2023, the company acquired Trustpage, adding security review automation, trust center, and questionnaire management capabilities. Together, these acquisitions expanded Vanta's platform beyond compliance automation into broader trust management and vendor risk workflows.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Vanta is backed by Sequoia Capital, Wellington Management, J.P. Morgan, Craft Ventures, Y Combinator, Growth Equity at GS Alternatives, and others.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: VAST DATA

COMPANY NAME	VAST Data
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	AI Storage and Data Infrastructure
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Research and Markets estimates the global software-defined storage market will grow from $44.0B in 2026 to $111.1B by 2030, representing a 26.1% CAGR. VAST also addresses adjacent database, data management, vector search, streaming, compute, and AI orchestration markets through its broader AI Operating System.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	VAST Data is headquartered in New York and serves customers globally.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Pure Storage (PSTG), Dell (DELL), NetApp (NTAP), IBM (IBM), Broadcom (AVGO) PRIVATE: WEKA, Hammerspace, DDN, MinIO
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	VAST works closely with NVIDIA, HPE, Dell, Supermicro, and other hardware and channel partners. Notable customers include CoreWeave, xAI, AWS, Nebius, Lambda, Crusoe, Cursor, Mistral AI, Lowe's, JPMorganChase, SK Telecom, NASA, the US Air Force, and the NHL. In November 2025, VAST signed a $1.17B agreement to stay CoreWeave's primary data platform.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	VAST provides a software-defined data platform designed to support high-performance AI training, inference, analytics, and agentic workloads. Its Disaggregated Shared Everything architecture decouples storage processing from capacity, allowing customers to scale performance and data independently while presenting file, object, and database services through one platform. VAST initially competed in enterprise storage but has expanded into an AI Operating System combining DataStore, DataBase, DataEngine, DataSpace, vector search, event streaming, and native compute. AI OS 5.5 added trillion-vector retrieval, analytical query execution, managed Kubernetes, and zero-copy data operations, bringing processing closer to stored data and reducing infrastructure fragmentation. Customers can license VAST software directly or consume it through OEM, cloud, and infrastructure partners. VAST's principal differentiation is its ability to keep large GPU clusters continuously supplied with data while unifying storage, database, streaming, and compute under one governance model. This positions it against traditional storage vendors such as Pure Storage and NetApp, as well as AI-focused competitors including WEKA and Hammerspace. Its expansion into databases also creates increasing overlap with Snowflake, Databricks, and other data platforms.

MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	VAST Data was founded by Renen Hallak (CEO), Shachar Fienblit, Jeff Denworth, and Alon Horev. CFO Amy Shapero previously served as CFO of Shopify.
SIZE OF COMPANY	VAST Data has approximately 1,000 employees. The company ended FY26 with more than $500M in committed ARR, over $4B in cumulative bookings, positive OMs, and positive FCF.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	VAST surpassed $200M in ARR in January 2025 and exceeded $500M in committed ARR by the end of FY26. The company reported revenue growth of ~3x, more than $100M in quarterly cash generation, and a Rule of X score of 228%, reflecting rapid growth alongside profitability.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	VAST has not historically been active in M&A, although its April 2026 financing provides capital for potential strategic transactions. Recent corporate activity has focused on partnerships, including the $1.17B CoreWeave agreement, AI security integration with CrowdStrike, and a joint AI data platform with Cloudera and NVIDIA.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Key investors include Drive Capital, Access Industries, Fidelity, NEA, NVIDIA, Microsoft, Thrive Capital, Altimeter Capital, BOND, and Goldman Sachs. VAST is Series F-stage and has raised more than $1.3B.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	In April 2026, VAST raised ~$1B in a Series F at a $30B valuation, led by Drive Capital with Access Industries as co-lead. More than half of the transaction reportedly consisted of secondary capital. This compares with a $9.1B valuation in December 2023.

COMPANY NAME	Veeam
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Data Resilience & Cyber Recovery / Backup & Recovery, Cyber Resilience, Data Protection & Ransomware Recovery
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Veeam operates across data protection, backup, disaster recovery, and cyber resilience markets, where demand is being driven by ransomware threats, regulatory requirements, cloud migration, and growing data volumes across hybrid and multi-cloud environments. While Veeam has not disclosed a TAM estimate, Cohesity has sized the opportunity at more than $40B. As cyberattacks increasingly target backup and recovery infrastructure, organizations are prioritizing cyber resilience and recovery over traditional backup.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Veeam is headquartered in Seattle, WA and serves customers globally through a large partner ecosystem and cloud service provider network.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED:Rubrik (RBRK), Commvault (CVLT), Dell Technologies (DELL), Microsoft (MSFT) PRIVATE:Cohesity, Druva, Acronis

Veeam was founded in 2006 by Ratmir Timashev and Andrei Baronov and relocated its headquarters to the U.S. following Insight Partners' 2020 acquisition.
SIZE OF COMPANY	Veeam is one of the largest data resilience software vendors globally, serving more than 550,000 customers (up from 450,000 in early 2024) and 80%+ of the Fortune 500. As of June 2026, the company reported more than $2B in ARR, reinforcing its position as a global leader in backup, recovery, cyber resilience, and data protection.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Veeam surpassed $2B in ARR in June 2026, up from approximately $1.7B in September 2024, when it reported 18% ARR growth, 31% Software and SaaS subscription ARR growth, ~30% EBITDA margins, and performance above the Rule of 40. Growth has been driven by demand for ransomware recovery, cyber resilience, cloud-native data protection, and SaaS backup.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	In December 2025, Veeam acquired Securiti AI for approximately $1.7B, expanding its platform into data security, governance, compliance, and AI trust. Combined with its earlier acquisition of Alcion, the deal strengthened Veeam's vision of a unified platform for protecting, governing, and recovering enterprise data.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Late-stage private company backed by Insight Partners, with TPG, Temasek, and Neuberger Berman Capital Solutions participating through a secondary transaction.

COMPANY NAME	Vercel
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	DevOps Software / AI-Powered Software Development (also known as vibe-coding) tools
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	According to IDC, the DevSecOps tools market is expected to reach $16B by 2028, while internal analysis at GitLab places the TAM at $40B, although Vercel also caters to citizen developers and web app hosting.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Vercel is headquartered in San Francisco, California.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: GitLab (GTLB), Microsoft GitHub (MSFT), Atlassian (TEAM), Akamai (AKAM), Cloudflare (NET), and Fastly (FSLY) PRIVATE: Replit, Lovable, Harness, CircleCI.
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Key customers include OpenAI (leverages Vercel for website hosting), Anthropic, Nike, Walmart, and Twilio.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Vercel's core DX platform offers a suite of features to create, deploy, and track applications and content management systems. With integrations to common developer tools including GitLab, GitHub, and Atlassian Bitbucket, developers can code in either Vercel's CLI or their own tool of choice, initiate a pull request in DX and fix anomalies leveraging Vercel's Agent AI review tool, then ship and iterate with in-production tracking and editing capabilities. Once deployed, Vercel's Fluid serverless cloud infra back-end offers efficient CPU management and infrastructure scaling, while WAF, Bot Management, and DDOS protection can secure apps in production. In addition to offering AI functionality in code review, Vercel offers an AI SDK to jumpstart AI-powered application development, a coding assistant with the text-to-app v0 platform, and AI Gateway to create a centralized LLM/API management interface. According to Vercel's CEO, with the ease of creating instant software to serve specific needs, platforms like Vercel could drive downward pricing pressure on legacy software while driving a corresponding increase in cloud infrastructure demand as agentic workflows accrue there.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: WEBFLOW

COMPANY NAME	Webflow
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Creative/Design Software / Visual Website Development
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	IDC estimates the worldwide low-code, no-code, and intelligent developer technologies market will grow from $32.3B in 2024 to $225.4B in 2029, a 47% CAGR. This is broader than Webflow's direct website-development TAM but captures its expansion into AI-powered development, website content management, optimization, and enterprise web experiences.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in San Francisco and remote-first, with offices in Chicago, London, and Buenos Aires. Webflow serves 300,000+ enterprises and agencies across 200+ countries.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: Wix (WIX), GoDaddy (GDDY), and Adobe (ADBE) PRIVATE: Squarespace, Automattic/WordPress, Contentful, Framer, Sanity, and Storyblok
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Customers: Webflow is trusted by 300,000+ organizations, including The New York Times, Dropbox, TED, Docusign, Amazon Ads, and Reddit. Suppliers: AWS and Fastly support Webflow's hosting and content-delivery infrastructure.
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	Webflow targets professional designers, developers, and marketing teams building sophisticated, content-rich websites, with particular strength in software, technology, media, professional services, and other digitally native industries. This differentiates it from Wix, GoDaddy, and Squarespace, which skew more toward small-business presence sites. Its visual development platform combines design flexibility with website content management, hosting, optimization, and enterprise governance, positioning it between simpler website builders and developer-intensive platforms such as WordPress and Adobe Experience Manager. Webflow's freemium model supports user acquisition, while its enterprise expansion increases overlap with Contentful, Sanity, Storyblok, and Adobe.
YEAR FOUNDED / ESTABLISHED	2013
WEBSITE	webflow.com
MANAGEMENT TEAM / FOUNDER(S)	Linda Tong (CEO), previously Webflow's President and COO; Adrian Rosenkranz (CRO); Craig Mestel (CFO); Dave Steer (CMO); George Karamanos (Chief Legal Officer); Ben Haefle (CPO); Utkarsh Sengar (CTO); and Jin Lim (Chief Engineering Officer). Founders include Vlad Magdalin (Co-founder and Chairman), Sergie Magdalin (Co-founder and Design Fellow), and Bryant Chou (Co-founder).
SIZE OF COMPANY	Webflow reports 900+ employees (up from 600+ in 2025) across 25 countries, 3.5M users, and 300,000+ organizations on its platform. The company said in June 2024 that it generated hundreds of millions of dollars in annual revenue but has not disclosed a newer financial figure.
GROWTH TRAJECTORY	Webflow has not disclosed a recent revenue growth rate. Historically, users grew from 2M in 2020 to 3.5M currently. Recent growth has centered on enterprise adoption, a 300+ person sales organization, international expansion, and AI-powered site building, personalization, analytics, and optimization. Adobe customers have also evaluated Webflow around renewal cycles, suggesting increasing overlap with Adobe Experience Manager.
ANY MAJOR M&A / CORPORATE ACTIONS	Webflow acquired AI-driven website personalization platform Intellimize in April 2024 and the GreenSock business, creator of the GSAP animation library, in October 2024. In March 2026, Webflow acquired multi-modal AI asset-generation startup Vidoso.ai to expand brand-governed marketing workflows.
INVESTORS / INVESTMENT STAGE	Late-stage private company; latest disclosed funding stage was Series C. Investors include Y Combinator Continuity, CapitalG, Accel, Silversmith Capital Partners, Rainfall Ventures, Draper Associates, FundersClub, and Khosla Ventures.
LATEST ROUND VALUATION	Approximately $4B following Webflow's Series C financing in 2022.

PRIVATE COMPANY PROFILE: 6SENSE

COMPANY NAME	6sense
SECTOR / SUB-SECTOR	Revenue Intelligence / B2B Sales and Marketing Platform
SIZE OF TOTAL ADDRESSABLE MARKET	Fortune Business Insights estimates the global sales-intelligence market at $4.85B in 2025 and projects it to reach $12.45B by 2034, an 11.1% CAGR. This is narrower than 6sense's broader opportunity across account intelligence, intent data, advertising, and revenue orchestration. In the past, the CFO described the company's TAM as every B2B company, beyond its historical focus on Fortune 1000 enterprises.
GEOGRAPHIC PRESENCE	Headquartered in San Francisco, with offices in London (EMEA headquarters), Singapore, and India.
NOTABLE COMPETITORS	LISTED: ZoomInfo (GTM), HubSpot (HUBS), Salesforce (CRM), and Dun & Bradstreet (DNB) PRIVATE: Demandbase, Bombora, Cognism, Apollo, Lusha, and RollWorks
KEY SUPPLIERS / CUSTOMERS	Customers: Cognizant, SAP, Qualtrics, PTC, Cisco, Shell, and Okta. Supplier/partner: Bombora provides third-party intent data used in 6sense's predictive models and sales-intelligence platform
COMPETITIVE POSITIONING	6sense combines intent data, account intelligence, predictive analytics, advertising, and sales and marketing orchestration in one B2B revenue platform. Its ability to identify anonymous demand, prioritize in-market accounts, and automate actions across existing GTM tools differentiates it from pure data providers and point solutions. Partnerships and integrations with HubSpot, LinkedIn, Salesforce, and Bombora extend its intelligence into customers' existing workflows. 6sense was named a Leader in Gartner's 2025 Magic Quadrant for Account-Based Marketing Platforms for the fifth consecutive year and ranked highest for Ability to Execute.

Neutral	FSR is between -6% and 6% of the MRA.	39%	20%
Sell	FSR is > 6% below the MRA.	6%	21%

Source: UBS. Rating allocations are as of 30 September 2026.
1:Percentage of companies under coverage globally within the 12-month rating category.
2:Percentage of companies within the 12-month rating category for which investment banking (IB) services were provided within the past 12 months.

KEY DEFINITIONS:Forecast Stock Return (FSR) is expected percentage price appreciation plus gross dividend yield over the next 12 months. In some cases, this yield may be based on accrued dividends. Market Return Assumption (MRA) is the one-year local market interest rate plus 5% (a proxy for, and not a forecast of, the equity risk premium). Under Review (UR) Stocks may be flagged by the analyst to indicate that the stock's price target and/or rating may change in the near term, usually in response to an event that may affect the investment case or valuation. Equity Price Targets have a 12-month investment horizon.

EXCEPTIONS AND SPECIAL CASES:UK and European Investment Fund ratings and definitions are: Buy: Positive on factors such as structure, management, performance record and discount; Neutral: Neutral on factors such as structure, management, performance record and discount; Sell: Negative on factors such as structure, management, performance record and discount. Core Banding Exceptions (CBE): Exceptions to the standard +/-6% bands may be granted by the Investment Review Consultation (IRC). Factors considered by the IRC include the stock's volatility and the credit spread of the respective company's debt. As a result, stocks deemed very high or low risk may be subject to higher or lower bands for rating purposes. Where such exceptions apply, they will be identified in the Company Disclosures table in the relevant research piece.

In certain circumstances, you may receive UBS Global Research other than in your capacity as a UBS client and, you understand and agree that in those circumstances: (i) UBS Global Research is provided to you for information purposes only; (ii) for the purpose of receiving it, you are not intended to be and will not be treated as a "client" of UBS for any legal or regulatory purpose; (iii) UBS Global Research must not be relied on or acted upon for any purpose; and (iv) such content is subject to the relevant disclaimers that follow.

This document may be distributed only as permitted by law. It is not directed to, or intended for distribution to or use by, any person or entity that is a citizen or resident of, or located in, any locality, state, country or other jurisdiction where such distribution, publication, availability or use would be contrary to law or regulation or would subject UBS to any registration or licensing requirement in that jurisdiction.

This document is a general communication and educational in nature; it is not an advertisement, solicitation or offer to buy or sell any financial instrument or to participate in any particular trading strategy. Nothing in this document constitutes a representation that any investment strategy or recommendation is suitable or appropriate to an investor's individual circumstances or otherwise constitutes a personal recommendation. By providing this document, neither UBS nor its representatives has any responsibility or authority to provide, or to have provided, investment advice in a fiduciary or any other capacity. Investments involve risks, and investors should exercise prudence and their own judgment in making investment decisions. Neither UBS nor its representatives is suggesting that the recipient or any other person take a specific course of action, or any action at all. The recipient should read this document carefully and in full and not draw inferences or conclusions from the rating alone. By receiving this document, the recipient acknowledges and agrees with the intended purpose described above and further disclaims any expectation or belief that the information constitutes investment advice to the recipient or otherwise purports to meet the recipient's investment objectives. The financial instruments described in this document may not be eligible for sale in all jurisdictions or to certain categories of investors.

Options, structured derivative products and futures (including OTC derivatives) are not suitable for all investors. Trading in these instruments is risky and may be appropriate only for sophisticated investors. Before buying or selling an option, you must receive a copy of "The Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options" for a full description of options risks. You may read it at https://www.theocc.com/publications/risks/riskchap1.jsp or ask your salesperson for a copy. Various theoretical explanations of the risks of these instruments have been published. Supporting documentation for any claims, comparisons, recommendations, statistics or other technical data will be supplied on request. Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future results. Transaction costs may be significant in option strategies involving multiple purchases and sales, such as spreads and straddles. As tax considerations are important to many options transactions, investors considering options should consult their tax advisor on how taxes affect the outcome of contemplated options transactions.

Mortgage- and asset-backed securities may involve a high degree of risk and be highly volatile in response to interest rate fluctuations or other market conditions. Foreign currency exchange rates may adversely affect the value, price or income of any security or related instrument referred to in this document. For investment advice, trade execution or other inquiries, clients should contact their local sales representative.

UBS notes that no globally accepted framework or definition (legal, regulatory or otherwise) currently exists, and there is no market consensus, as to what constitutes "ESG" (Environmental, Social or Governance) or an equivalent label, or what precise attributes are required for the Information (as defined below) to be defined as ESG or equivalently labelled. Any information, data or other content, including from third party sources, contained or referred to herein or used by UBS or a third party for any purpose ("Information"), in relation to any actual or potential ESG objective, issue or consideration, is not intended to be relied upon for ESG classification, regulatory regime or industry initiative purposes ("ESG Regimes"). Nothing in this document is intended to convey, suggest or indicate that UBS considers or represents any product, service, person or body mentioned in it to meet or qualify for any ESG classification, labelling or similar standards that may exist under ESG Regimes. UBS has not assessed compliance with ESG Regimes. Parties should make their own assessments for these purposes.

The value of any investment or income may go down as well as up, and investors may not get back the full (or any) amount invested. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Neither UBS nor any of its directors, employees or agents accepts liability for any loss (including investment loss) or damage arising out of the use of any of the Information.

Before making any investment or financial decision, any recipient of this document or the information should take steps to understand the investment's risk and return and seek individualized advice from their personal financial, legal, tax and other professional advisors, taking into account all relevant facts and circumstances of their investment objectives.

Any prices stated in this document are for information purposes only and do not represent valuations of individual securities or other financial instruments. There is no representation that any transaction can or could have been effected at those prices. They do not necessarily reflect UBS's internal books and records or theoretical model-based valuations and may be based on certain assumptions. Different assumptions by UBS or any other source may yield substantially different results.

No representation or warranty, express or implied, is given as to the accuracy, completeness or reliability of the information contained in any materials to which this document relates (the "Information"), except with respect to Information concerning UBS. The Information is not intended to be a complete statement or summary of the securities, markets or developments referred to in this document. UBS does not undertake to update or keep current the Information. Any statements contained in this document attributed to a third party represent UBS's interpretation of data, information and/or opinions provided by that third party, publicly or through a subscription service, and such use and interpretation have not been reviewed by that third party. In no circumstances may this document or any Information, including any forecast, value, index or other calculated amount ("Values"), be used for: (i) valuation or accounting purposes; (ii) determining amounts due or payable, or the price or value of any financial instrument or financial contract; or (iii) measuring the performance of any financial instrument, including without limitation tracking the return or performance of any Value, defining the asset allocation of a portfolio or computing performance fees.

By receiving this document and the Information you will be deemed to represent and warrant to UBS that you will not use this document or any of the Information for any of those purposes or otherwise rely upon this document or any of the Information.

UBS has policies and procedures, including without limitation independence policies and permanent information barriers, intended, and relied on by UBS, to manage potential conflicts of interest and control the flow of information within UBS divisions and among its subsidiaries, branches and affiliates. UBS does and seeks to do business with companies covered in its research documents. As a result, investors should be aware that UBS may have a conflict of interest that could affect this document's objectivity. Investors should consider this document as only one factor in making an investment decision. For further information on how UBS Global Research manages conflicts and maintains the independence of its research products, historical performance information and certain additional disclosures concerning UBS Global Research recommendations, please visit https://www.ubs.com/disclosures.

UBS Global Research will initiate, update and cease coverage solely at the discretion of UBS Global Research Management, which also has sole discretion over the timing and frequency of any published research product. The analysis in this document is based on numerous assumptions. All material information relating to published research documents, such as valuation methodology, risk statements, underlying assumptions (including sensitivity analysis of those assumptions), ratings history and other information required by the Market Abuse Regulation, can be found on UBS Neo. Different assumptions could produce materially different results.

UBS Global Research may use artificial intelligence tools in the preparation of this document. Notwithstanding any such use, this document has undergone human review.

The analyst(s) responsible for preparing this document may interact with trading desk personnel, sales personnel and other parties to gather, apply and interpret market information. UBS relies on information barriers to control the flow of information from one or more areas within UBS to other areas, units, groups or affiliates. Compensation of the analyst(s) who prepared this document is determined exclusively by UBS Global Research management and senior management (excluding investment banking). It is not based on investment banking revenues; however, it may relate to the revenues of UBS and/or its divisions as a whole, including investment banking, sales and trading, and UBS as a whole.

For financial instruments admitted to trading on an EU regulated market: UBS (excluding UBS Securities LLC) acts as a market maker or liquidity provider (as those terms are interpreted under English law or, if the activity is not carried out by UBS in the UK, under the law of the relevant jurisdiction in which UBS determines it carries out the activity) in the issuer's financial instruments, except where liquidity provider activity is carried out in accordance with the definition under the laws and regulations of another EU jurisdiction, in which case it is separately disclosed in this document. For financial instruments admitted to trading on a non-EU regulated market: UBS may act as a market maker, except where that activity is carried out in the US in accordance with the definition under applicable laws and regulations, in which case it will be specifically disclosed in this document. UBS may have issued a warrant whose value is based on one or more financial instruments referred to in this document. UBS and its affiliates and employees may have long or short positions, trade as principal, and buy and sell instruments or derivatives identified herein; such transactions or positions may be inconsistent with the opinions expressed in this document.

Within the past 12 months, UBS may have received or provided investment services and activities or ancillary services under MiFID II that may have given rise to a payment or promise of payment in relation to those services from or to this company.

Please note that all transactions conducted by UBS are consistent with sanctions imposed by Switzerland, the European Union, the United Nations, the United Kingdom and the United States, in accordance with UBS's global sanctions policy. UBS's opinions as to future investment worthiness assume no new sanctions are imposed.

US persons are prohibited from purchasing or selling securities of certain companies designated as associated with the Chinese Military in accordance with amended US Presidential Executive Order 13959.

Investing in structured investments involves significant risks. For a detailed discussion of the risks involved in investing in any particular structured investment, you must read the relevant offering materials for that investment. Structured investments are unsecured obligations of a particular issuer with returns linked to the performance of an underlying asset. Depending on the terms of the investment, investors could lose all or a substantial portion of their investment based on the performance of the underlying asset. Investors could also lose their entire investment if the issuer becomes insolvent. UBS does not guarantee in any way the obligations or the financial condition of any issuer or the accuracy of any financial information provided by any issuer. Structured investments are not traditional investments and investing in a structured investment is not equivalent to investing directly in the underlying asset. Structured investments may have limited or no liquidity, and investors should be prepared to hold their investment to maturity. The return of structured investments may be limited by a maximum gain, participation rate or other feature. Structured investments may include call features and, if a structured investment is called early, investors would not earn any further return and may not be able to reinvest in similar investments with similar terms. Structured investments include costs and fees which are generally embedded in the price of the investment. The tax treatment of a structured investment may be complex and may differ from a direct investment in the underlying asset. UBS and its employees do not provide tax advice. Investors should consult their own tax advisor about their own tax situation before investing in any securities.

Important Information About Sustainable Investing Strategies: This terminology refers to definitions in the UBS Sustainable Investing Framework and does not refer or relate to any product specific regulatory labelling regime or naming conventions. Sustainable investing strategies aim to consider and incorporate environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors into investment process and portfolio construction. Strategies across geographies approach ESG analysis and incorporate the findings in a variety of ways. Incorporating ESG factors or sustainable investing considerations may inhibit the portfolio manager's ability to participate in certain investment opportunities that otherwise would be consistent with its investment objective and other principal investment strategies. The returns on a portfolio incorporating ESG factors or sustainable investing considerations may be lower or higher than portfolios where ESG factors, exclusions, or other sustainability issues are not considered by the portfolio manager, and the investment opportunities available to such portfolios may differ.

Within the past 12 months UBS Switzerland AG, its affiliates or subsidiaries may have received or provided investment services and activities or ancillary services as per MiFID II which may have given rise to a payment or promise of a payment in relation to these services from or to this company.
